Plant's future bright

By BILL WINTER
Editor

Liberty, Tex., Granite City, Ill., Pittsburgh, Pa.—the locations are widely separated but quickly reached by jet-age executives like Chairman George A. Stinson and President Howard M. Love.

Chief executive officer and chief operating officer, respectively, of National Steel Corporation, the two "met the press" Thursday afternoon in Pittsburgh, pausing for several hours to become further acquainted with business writers.

Their busy travel schedule through the Southwest, Midwest, East and other areas enables them to remain in touch with what is happening at the many National Steel divisions, while at the same time adhering to a decentralization policy in which there is "decision-making at the lowest possible level." The company has 50 plants in 22 states and Canada.

Love was in Texas Wednesday and Pennsylvania Thursday but many of his thoughts were on Granite City Steel as he conferred with a Press-Record representative at the National Steel headquarters in the Grant building.

He sees a bright future for both Granite City Steel and the parent corporation.

The local company was acquired by National Steel Aug. 16, 1971. Named president of the Midwest Steel Division, Portage, Ind., in June 1966, Love also became president of Granite City Steel in January 1972 and chairman of the National Pipe and Tube Co. 40 miles east of Houston in 1974.

Known as "Pete" by his associates, the tall, 45-year-old Pittsburgh native was elected Dec. 17 as the fifth president in National Steel's history.

He will occupy an operating center on the top floor of the Mercantile Tower, St. Louis, beginning in April while also having an office in the corporate headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Robert D. McBride was named president of Granite City Steel and James V. Stack president of Midwest Steel on Jan. 12.

Because cost control is looming ever larger in an era beset by inflation and recession, Love is giving much of his attention to operating efficiency as well as expansion of facilities.

"Granite City Steel to offset manpower, raw material and energy costs in 1975 refined its management and cost controls in all the phases of operations—from receipt of materials through shipment of products," he noted.

"After three years of nearly full operation, our business was

Man is acquitted in fatal shooting

After hearing a defense based upon self-defense, a jury in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville Thursday afternoon found Jerry Lee Nelson, 29, of 3120 Jill Ave., innocent of the murder of Edward L. Osborn, 29, of 14 Veronica Court, Mitchell, in the parking lot of Tri-City Radio Service, 3130 Nameoki Road, Sept. 25, 1975.

Nelson testified he and Mr. Osborn had been in a nearby lounge a short time before the shooting and he had seen a gun Mr. Osborn was carrying.

He said he attempted to leave the lounge on one occasion and Mr. Osborn followed him. Nelson said he felt Mr. Osborn intended to harm him, so he went to a telephone and called his sister to ask her to bring the gun.

After obtaining the gun, Nelson said he tried to leave and Mr. Osborn followed him. In the parking lot, Mr. Osborn was alleged to have said, "Get in the car. I'll kill you right here.

Nelson said he believed Osborn was reaching for a gun after making that statement, and Nelson shot him in self defense.

Nelson testified he thought he had been threatened by Mr. Osborn on several previous occasions. He said during a fight in February 1974, he and the late Leo Cosgrove disarmed Mr. Osborn and Osborn threatened both of them.

Telephone system here computerized

At 1 a.m. Saturday, while most Quad-City area residents were asleep, Illinois Bell and Western Electric employes were busy at the Granite City central office, 2107 Edison Ave., converting 17,000 area telephones to electronic switching.

The local Illinois Bell Telephone Co manager, Ken Evers, said the new electronic switching system (ESS) is the most modern equipment available today in the Bell System.

To mark the introduction of the service in the area, a first-call ceremony was held at the office at 10:30 a.m. Friday and area officials got a close look at the computer-like system, which can switch calls locally or forward them across oceans with equal ease.

Participating in the ceremony were Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce President William F. Winter and Chamber Executive Vice-President Edward Reiske.

The capabilities of the new equipment were demonstrated with an international direct distance (IDDD) call.

Customers with telephones now working out of the ESS equipment, which includes Granite City, Madison and Venice, can now dial calls directly to 32 nations overseas. Exchanges served are 877, 876, 451 and 452.

ESS equipment makes possible custom calling services. Available for a small monthly charge, these include:

1. Call waiting. A tone signal indicating someone is trying to call allows a customer who is on the phone to put the first call on "hold" and answer the second call.

Industry, culture in area

(Sixth of a Bicentennial Year series)

Following is a 1968 (Illinois' 150th anniversary) tribute to Southern Illinois, including references to this community, by Irving Dilliard, a Collinsville resident noted as a journalist, editor and author:

Bone Gap, Wolf Lake, Deer Plain, Beaver Creek, Crab Orchard, Red Bud, Mountain Glen, Golden Gate, Mulberry Grove, Plum Hill, Alton Pass.

A triangle, that's what Southern Illinois is—a triangle that stands inverted on one of its points.

Locating the two angling sides that come down to this point is easy. That's like, as we say down in Little Egypt, shooting fish in a barrel.

Karnak, Thebes, Dongola, Eldorado, Corinth, Sparta, Palmyra, Epworth, Waterloo, Saratoga, Reno, Detroit, Mount Vernon, Bunker Hill.

The Mississippi River makes up the entire length of the side on the west.

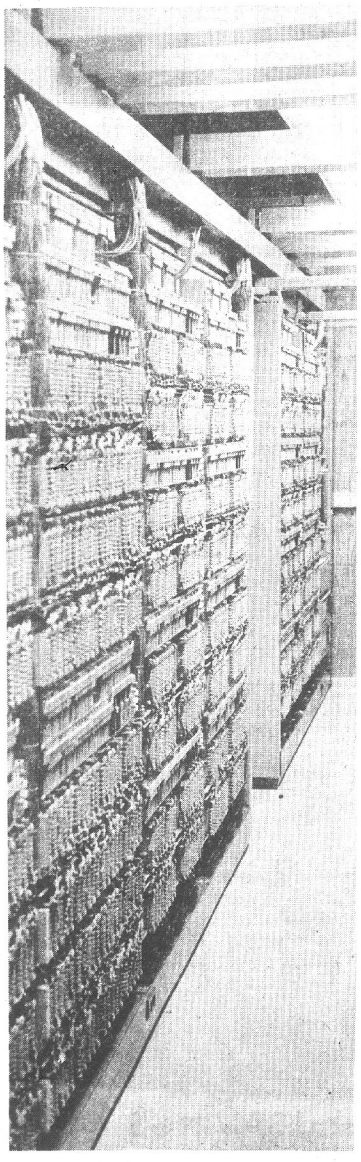

On the east it is the Wabash River and when the east side meanders off south-like that side becomes the Ohio.

Three rivers on the east and west and south. Simple.

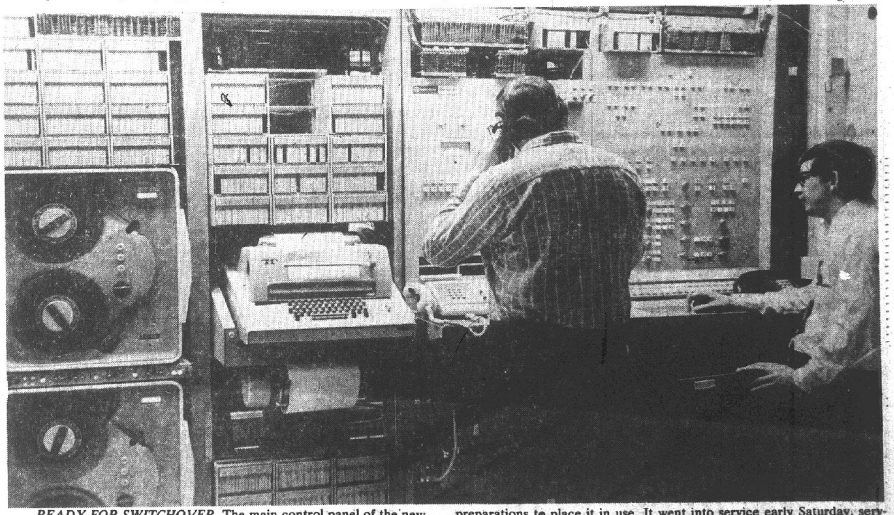

But saying just where the north side is, now that is something else again. Because coming down from the north there is no convenient river to tell you where Southern Illinois starts. And no one has been bold enough to put up highway markers to suggest even a mythical boundary line.

U.S. rejects Walker Medicaid freeze

Governor Dan Walker's plan to cut $25 million from Illinois hospitals through a Medicaid freeze and rate review has been declared not acceptable by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare and must be abandoned.

According to Robert W. O'Leary, president of the Illinois Hospital Association, which represents more than 270 hospitals in the state, announcement of the HEW decision was made in a letter directed to James L. Trainor, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

The HEW letter — dated Jan. 8 — said that the Walker administration's justification of the new plan was "insufficient" and ordered Trainor to return Illinois to the "approved" method of paying hospitals for services rendered to Illinois' sick and poor.

According to O'Leary, the Walker administration — which only pays 85 per cent of actual hospital costs — had attempted with the new plan to pass on even greater losses to hospitals in order to make the budget of the Illinois Department of Public Aid look good.

O'Leary praised the action of HEW's acting regional commissioner of Social and Rehabilitation Services, Clyde V. Downing, for taking this decisive action.

"It tried to do so by freezing payments to hospitals for welfare patients at Oct. 6 levels, regardless of actual costs to hospitals and without regard to cost increases due to inflationary pressure."

The Walker plan also called for a three-man board to review relationships between the Illinois Department of Public Aid and the more than 250 Illinois hospitals having Medicaid contracts.

"The results of the freeze were easy to understand," continued O'Leary. "Hospitals' rates frozen at Oct. 6 levels could not take into consideration increasing costs for malpractice insurance, hospital supplies, equipment and support services. In order to make financial ends meet hospitals had to cut personnel (including doctors and nurses), close down health care programs, and forestall new construction or vital equipment purchases."

To prevent a disaster in the Illinois health care industry, IHA filed suit in federal court and appealed to HEW to look into the provisions of the Walker plan.

After initial study of the Walker plan, HEW labeled several provisions of the state document as 'arbitrary,' 'inconsistant' and 'confusing,' and gave the state until Dec. 19 to answer HEW criticism. The state presented HEW with additional information just before the deadline.

"However," said O'Leary, "HEW was not satisfied with Governor Walker's response and issued the order to abandon the plan.

"It is now up to the state to implement the HEW decision, abandon the freeze-rate review and return Illinois hospitals to a more equitable form of Medicaid reimbursement."

State construction cited

The following comments in last week's "state of the state" talk by Governor Daniel Walker relate to state construction activity:

Since it began operations in January, 1973, the Capital Development Board has become the largest contractor in the state in either the public or private sector.

In 1975, the Capital Development Board put over $200,000,000 of construction under contract.

Projects completed in 1975 included a laboratory building on West Taylor Avenue in Chicago, which will serve state agencies, and also the University of Illinois School of Public Health and the Regional Office Building in East St. Louis.

In addition to construction and rehabilitation work at state facilities, community colleges and universities throughout the state, the board started work on major new projects, such as the Capitol Complex in Springfield, the University of Illinois hospital on the west side of Chicago and the new agriculture building to be constructed on the State Fairgrounds.

During 1975, the Department of Transportation awarded $592 million in construction contracts; 550 miles of highway were widened and resurfaced, and 750 more miles are under contract.

Continuing progress was made on the supplemental freeway system: $57 million in construction was placed under contract.

By the close of 1976, the state's Interstate highway program, the third largest in the nation, will be virtually complete.

All inter-city links will have been completed, with only two bypasses and several structures remaining unfinished. This excludes the Crosstown Expressway from consideration as part of the interstate program.

The department has increased its support for public transportation operations — including commuter trains, suburban and downstate municipal bus systems, Amtrak and the Chicago Transit Authority — from $25 million in 1973 to $147 million this year.

The Environmental Protection Agency has, in the past three years, dramatically improved the level of its activity directed toward obtaining compliance with current environmental laws and regulations.

Grants for construction and upgrading of municipal sewage treatment plants have been expedited.

In fiscal year 1975 alone, the agency awarded $170 million in grants for sewage treatment plants, more than double the entire amount provided in the period 1970-1972.

The agency has been pursuing a voluntary compliance program. Obtaining firm compliance programs from polluters is more expeditious and less costly than litigation.

In fiscal 1975, the agency obtained compliance by, or firm compliance programs from, more than 250 pollution sources, without resorting to litigation.

Also, since January 1973, the Illinois Industrial Pollution Control Financing Authority has provided assistance to private industry in the financing of $160 million worth of pollution equipment.

Higher tuition to affect minority students at SIUE

About 22 per cent of the black student population at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville pay their own tuition and will be affected seriously by any tuition hike at the University, according to Ralph Collins, president of the Black Student Association (BSA) at SIUE.

A tuition hike is being proposed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE) for all state universities. At SIUE, the BHE proposal will mean a $20 per quarter increase in tuition for full-time in-state undergraduate students and a $30 per quarter increase in tuition for full-time in-state graduate students in 1976-77, a potential 60 per cent reduction in the number of institutional scholarships and a potential $15 per quarter increase for undergraduate students in 1978, 1979 and 1980.

Collins said that approximately 2,000 of the University's 12,212 students are black. Many of these students are attending school due to veteran's benefits, scholarships, grants and tuition waivers. But about 22 per cent of these pay their own way, and Collins feels there is little likelihood they can absorb any tuition increases.

He also added that with a potential 60 per cent reduction in scholarships, many black students may lose funding for their education. "Any cuts that affect the University always affect us because we are still the lowest part of the totem pole, economically speaking," Collins said.

A program that has aided many minority students at SIUE, the Supplemental Instructional Program (SIP), provides tuition waivers for low income, educationally disadvantaged and minority students who show promise of good scholarship.

Collins pointed out that if the BHE tuition proposal is approved by the state legislature, tuition waivers will be cut to two per cent of the full-time enrollment. Many blacks will lose funding for education.

"SIP had a cut not too long ago," Collins said, "About 175 waivers were cut last summer. This means that fewer students are receiving tuition waivers at SIUE."

Collins feels that the BHE proposed the tuition hike because "politicians are putting higher priorities on building highways than paying for education. The working man has got to wake up and realize what the politicians are trying to do to people.

"All I heard when I was growing up was, go to school, go to school," Collins continued. "Now, they are even cutting sports programs which are big incentives for young people to continue their education.

"Through past experiences I don't think the BHE is telling the truth," Collins, a senior majoring in geography with a specialization in urban planning, said. "Illinois is the number one state in exporting agricultural goods. We are not a poor state moneywise. Illinois is second only to California in the number of families, and when we are talking about raising tuition we are talking about its effect on about 313 thousand families.

"People come to Illinois to live, not to retire," he said. "It is a beautiful state and many have come here because of the opportunities they thought the state offered."

The BSA president said students can not afford to pay the "special tax" that the proposed tuition increase places on them.

"Since I am a veteran, at least I get $275 a month to live on," he said. "But I think about those who cannot make any money and can't get financial aids. So here they are out of school and out of work. What is left for them to do?"

Walker urges faster trials, longer terms

Comments on the topic of individual safety by Governor Daniel Walker in last week's 1976 "state of the state" message to the Illinois General Assembly.

As governor of Illinois, I pledge a total commitment to personal safety. We must get tougher. We must protect the rights of the law-abiding citizens of Illinois.

Recognizing that law enforcement is primarily a local responsibility, there is a role for the state. That role should be to revamp our outmoded criminal justice system.

We have begun: Illinois has a new criminal justice plan. It has already been endorsed by respected law enforcement officials, criminologists and scholars throughout the nation. It is already being copied in other states.

The plan takes dead aim at reducing crime.

The key to the plan is swift justice for all—and tough, sure punishment for the guilty.

It will not cure overnight the wanton violence to which we are being subjected. But it does replace handwringing with action.

We must have the 60-day trial law, a law requiring persons to be brought to trial less than 60 days after arrest. Under this law, criminals would not be out on bail for a year or more, committing additional crimes.

The guilty will not be able to delay punishment. And the innocent will not languish in confinement awaiting trial.

The existing sentencing and parole system in Illinois and throughout the country has been a dismal failure.

It does not deter. It does not punish. It does not rehabilitate. It should be scrapped.

I propose legislation to abolish parole and establish definite, tough sentences, perhaps double for a second offense.

No more 1-to-10-year sentences, where a hardened criminal deceives a parole board and is out in 16 months, committing more crimes and terrorizing more people.

The would-be criminal must know: He cannot expect a light sentence, a short term.

He must know: He will be punished. He will serve eight years, or 10 years or life, depending on the crime.

Then, and only then, will we deter and reduce crime.

We will give credit for good behavior in prison. We will establish voluntary rehabilitation programs which, rather than being a gimmick for early release, prepare a man for life on the outside.

This program will strengthen our local police departments and our courts and prisons. They must be involved to make it work.

If we act, history will record that we in Illinois showed the nation the way and that, in 1976, government turned the corner in protecting the personal safety of its citizens.

The Department of Corrections experienced a sharp increase in the prison population from 6,400 to 8,000 during 1975. As a result, the program to provide one cell for each prisoner has been slowed.

However, hot and cold running water and electrical outlets for reading have been installed in approximately 3,000 cells.

Four-man tables have replaced the long benches in the dining rooms.

Work release programs have had a 98.6 per cent success rate. Since last October, when procedures were tightened, the success rate has been even better.

A program also has been developed in conjunction with a private contractor where residents are working for pay on the Interstate 55 highway project.

About 4,000 correctional officers have now gone through the guard training academy, opened in 1974 as the first formal training program for guards in Illinois history. Two correctional officers were dismissed last year following an investigation into Ku Klux Klan activities.

Arrest ends search

Vincent Gendron, 41, of 2230 Lincoln Ave., was arrested last week at his home by Granite City police and two Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and was charged with violating the terms of his parole.

Officials had been searching for Gendron since June 13, 1973, when a warrant alleging a parole violation was issued.

Ways to avoid loss by fraud

By WILLIAM J. SCOTT
Illinois Attorney General

How many of your New Year's resolutions have you kept so far?

Oh . . . Well, there's always next year. Or, perhaps you can have a second chance in 1976.

Below are ten New Year's Resolutions — or reminders, at least — that, if followed, can help to keep you from becoming a victim of fraud.

Be it resolved:

1. I will not buy things on impulse — especially things I do not need. I will take time to think; and I will discuss all major purchases with other family members before buying.

2. I will endeavor to shop only at community established businesses with good reputations.

3. I will never sign a contract under pressure.

4. I will not sign anything without reading it thoroughly and understanding it. If I don't understand it, I will ask questions until I do. If I still don't understand it, I either won't sign, or will wait until I can consult an attorney. I will remember that in Illinois each citizen legally has three full business days in which to cancel for full refund any contract signed or return in original condition any item purchased in an unsolicited sale — for example, a door-to-door sale in which the salesman and not the consumer initiated the contract.

The value of the contract or sale covered under this law must be at least $25. If I choose to cancel a contract or return an item in accordance with this law, I will do so by registered mail as well as by telephone. At the time of the sale, I will be certain the salesman gives me a "notice of cancellation" informing me of my rights to cancel and including the salesman's address or telephone number at which such notice can be given. This is law.

5. I will read all fine print in advertisements in which I am interested. The picture and the price in bold face type don't always coincide with the fine print!

6. I will get all guarantees and promises in writing.

7. I will ask the salesman any questions I wish about the merchandise or service in which I am interested — no matter how "stupid" I may fear those questions are. After all, it is my money.

8. I will be cautious of anyone not employed by an established community business with proper identification who offers a "free" home inspection of my furnace or roof, etc. I will remember that often the roof or furnace or etc. is in worse condition immediately after this "free" inspection than it was before!

9. I will take my automobile only to a dealer or mechanic I know and trust. I will get all repair estimates in writing. I will ask for all the "worn" or "broken" parts that have been removed from my car. And I will request an itemized bill and get any guarantees in writing.

10. And, I will remember . . . and remind myself . . . and remember that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

Hear Bicentennial plan

The Madison County Bicentennial Commission plans to obtain several permanent display cases to be placed around the first floor of the Madison County courthouse in Edwardsville, according to Louis Whitsell, chairman of the County Bicentennial Commission.

Whitsell was the guest speaker at the Thursday noon Optimist club meeting in the YMCA.

The display cases will cost $632 each and will house historical documents, pictures and artifacts reflecting the history of Madison County.

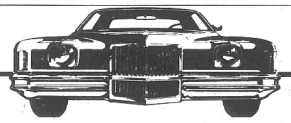

The county commission is seeking various clubs and organizations to sponsor a display case and the sponsor will have an appropriate name plate on the case, Whitsell told the Optimists.

Whitsell said that there is a need for more monies by the committee, pointing out that the more money available the better job the commission can do in marking the country's 200th birth date.

The county commission has received $6,000 from a federal grant and $7,500 from the county.

Co-chairmen representing the Optimist Club for the annual joint Rotary-Optimist Camelot Auction appointed are Dr. F. Scott Hendrickson and John L. McDonald.

GC hands Alton ice team its first loss

Granite City handed the Alton Flames their first ice hockey loss in three years Saturday night at the Wilson Park ice rink, 2-1 in Madison-St. Clair Junior Ice Hockey League (age 19 and under) competition.

Alton, coached by Tom Thompson, had a three-year mark of 51-0-1 and a 1975-76 record of 9-0 going into the contest while Coach Gary Mainer's local squad was 7-2.

The teams played to a scoreless tie in the first period and it was not until midway in the second period that Joe Hassler put the puck into the net, giving Granite City a lead.

Hassler's goal came when the Alton goalkeeper attempted to clear the puck down the ice. It deflected off Hassler's stick and went into the net.

Granite City gained its second goal less than a minute later off the stick of Kenny Sabol. Alton scored later in the period.

The third period was scoreless.

"We could have clinched the league championship by beating Granite City," noted Alton's Thompson, "but they played superbly and kept our backs to the wall."

Granite City had 29 shots on goal to Alton's 19.

Big win over Tigers 3rd in row for North

GCHS North, bouncing back from losses last month at the Illinois State basketball tournament, won its third straight contest at home Saturday night in a thrill-packed 69-67 finish which had Steeler fans standing and cheering in the bleachers.

The Steelers won 64-40 at O'Fallon Friday night.

North evened its record at 6-6 with a 69-67 down-to-the wire victory over the Tigers when Steeler Tom Schocker broke a 67-67 deadlock with a charity toss in the final minute and then returned to arch in another free throw with nine seconds left to play.

Edwardsville took an 18-12 lead in the opening period, but a strong surge by North put the Steelers on top by three, 31-28, at halftime.

The Tiger's pressure press forced nine Steeler turnovers in the third quarter, enabling Edwardsville to inch ahead 53-48 going into the final period, won by North by a 21-14 margin.

The contest was deadlocked with 40 seconds remaining after Edwardsville hit on seven fourth-quarter field goals and North on six field goals and seven charity tosses.

With the score 67-67, Schocker was fouled by a Tiger player while the Steeler was attempting a basket.

North went ahead by 68-67 when Schocker put his second toss from the foul line through the net after missing the first attempt.

Edwardsville lost possession but took the rebound on a missed Steeler shot and attempted a two-pointer with 12 seconds left.

The ball missed its mark and several players fought for it before Schocker was fouled in the melee. He walked to the free throw line and scored to provide a two-point margin.

The Tigers again lost the ball when a long pass went out of bounds.

Edwardsville shot 46 per cent from the floor, 26 of 56, and North only 39 per cent, 26 of 66. North hit on 17 of 25 foul shots and the Tigers 15 of 16.

Edwardsville committed 25 fouls and North 13. Edwardsville had the most turnovers, 22-19. North led in rebounds, 30-22.

Tiger Fred Burton, who had 21 points going into the final period, was held scoreless by North's defense in the last quarter.

Schocker pumped in 23 points for North, Rick Spurlock 16, Larry Schleicher 15, Tim Luehmann nine and Rodney Wortham six.

The Steelers caged the Panthers of O'Fallon 64-40 Friday on the Panthers' court. North High yielded possession on turnovers only four times, once in each of the four quarters.

Taking control of the game early to lead 12-0 on four baskets by Schocker and two by Spurlock, North continued its domination to lead O'Fallon 23-4, 39-11 and 52-21 at the quarters.

North controlled the boards with 41 rebounds, including 16 by Schocker and 11 by Spurlock, and pumped in 24 of 61 shots from the field as well as 16 of 22 charity tosses.

O'Fallon, held by North's defense to single field goals in each of the first two quarters, made 15 of 49 field goal attempts and 10 of 24 free throws.

The Panthers committed the fewest fouls, 17-19 and turned the ball over 13 times.

Schocker led North's scoring with 18 points. Spurlock had 13, Luehmann 10, Wertham and Schleicher nine each and Jerry Barnett five.

South girls capture district championship

GCHS South's girls' volleyball team swept to victory in three contests to capture the district tournament at Dupo, including 21-19 and 20-18 wins Friday over host Dupo in the tournament's title game.

The sectional titlist will advance to super-sectional play at Belleville West Tuesday, Jan. 27, with the victor there competing in state finals Jan. 30-31 at Illinois State University at Normal.

Coach Wilma Schulze's South squad was the top-seeded team in the Dupo district and lived up to its rating by downing East St. Louis Lincoln 20-18 and 20-13 last week. South advanced into the title contest with 20-12 and 20-18 wins over Collinsville Thursday.

John Sevier Burns an Indian Village

Giving a Legend a Helping Hand...

□ The Indians called him, "The man who couldn't be killed." He was John Sevier...the legendary Chucky Jack who became the first governor of Tennessee and who led his men into over thirty Indian battles without receiving a wound.

The Indians believed the Great Spirit rode at his side. However, one chief, Bloody Fellow, was not afraid. With 700 painted braves from three tribes he stalked Sevier's men and, one night, silently surrounded them to await the dawn.

Sevier was up at first light and surprised a careless brave who had one of the war party's few rifles. Pulling the quaking savage into full view he demanded in a thunderous voice that Indian shoot him so all could see he was protected by the Great Spirit.

With some help the misdirected rifle was discharged harmlessly and the superstitious savage ran for the forest followed by Bloody Fellow and the entire war party of 700.

Years ago you might hear somebody say that Southern Illinois began in "the county to the south."

The supposed point of this was that no county would own up to being in Southern Illinois but pushed it off onto the next lower tier of counties.

At best that had to be a poor kind of joke. For after a while you would run out of "counties to the south" and you would get down to the place where the east and west sides come to that point with Kentucky across the way.

Oblong, Makanda, Sandoval, Pinkstaff, Hamel, Ozark, Liberty Prairie, Equality, Breese, Dix, Kell, Crisp, Ware, Barr, Yale, Poag, Sims, Fruit, Cache.

Yet worse than that, it was an ugly libel doubtless uttered by some jaundiced passer-through. No Southern Illinois native would have spoken such patent untruth.

Some claimed—back in the days when Canteen Creek was full of swimming holes and boys in their birthday suits every summer and skaters and muskrat trappers every winter —that the dividing line was the B. and O. Railroad.

Others allowed the boundary was the Vandalia Line before it got itself renamed the Pennsy.

Vienna, Venice, Klondike, Delhi, Panama, Manchester, Glasgow, Alhambra, Palestine, Johannisburg, Galatia, Orient, Sorento, Sesser, Xenia.

But either line would have left out Alton and Alton is where the martyred editor Elijah Parish Lovejoy set an eternal flame burning for freedom that has thrown its light across a century and more and far beyond Southern Illinois.

Include Macoupin County and its storied courthouse and Blackburn College where boys and girls work for one another as well as their teachers?

If you don't, you forget there was a time when many Macoupin prairie-breaking farmers questioned the need of a Civil War and some might even have been Knights of the Golden Circle.

Bachtown, Wartburg, Hillsboro, Otterville, Summerfield, Villa Ridge, Grafton, Sailor Springs, Mill Shoals, New Design, West End, Richview.

The straight of it is that Central Illinois doesn't ever quite leave off and Southern Illinois doesn't ever stake out its northern frontier.

Below Jacksonville and Springfield, Decatur and Mattoon there is a generous belt of overlap and here and there the uppermost reaches of Egypt have their outposts in the land of the moundbuilders.

Geographically the region may stand on a point, but it is solidly based in history and culture, in industry and a way of life.

Industry swings around the triangle from the Tri-Cities and their steel mills to Rosiclare's flourspar to Robinson's candy bars with Benton's coal out in the middle.

Wild flowers bloom at Little Grassy in April, and willows float over the Big Muddy each summer.

When October paints the panorama from Pilot Knob and the peaches ripen in Union County and the apples come down from Calhoun, Southern Illinois yields nothing in autumnal glory to any place any where.

A good place to be, a good place to live. It couldn't be otherwise with so many saints marching around — St. Peter and St. Paul, St. John and St. Jacob, St. Libory, St. Rose and Ste. Marie.

Yes, and with so rich a heritage from the French and the Swiss, from the English and the Polish, the Italians and Balkans and Russians; the Czechs, Irish, and Scandinavians.

Church Women United installs

The officers for the coming year were elected and installed last week at the annual business assembly of Church Women United in the Quad-Cities held at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Leonard Roberts, a past president of the organization, served as the installing officer, with the following women assuming their duties for the coming year: President, Mrs. Ronald Pennell; vice-president, Mrs. John Gordon; secretary, Mrs. Donald Rivenburgh; and treasurer, Mrs. Hezzie Todd.

In the absence of the pastor of the church, the Rev. Don Pierson, Mrs. Victor Anderson gave the invocation, followed with a solo by Mrs. Leon Scroggins who sang "Sabbath Prayer" from "Fiddler on the Roof." Mrs. Scroggins was accompanied by Mrs. Fred Fossieck.

Mrs. James Henderson, retiring president, presented a summation of the projects which the group has undertaken during the past year.

Projects included: Circle of Prayer, directed by Mrs. James Rush; Blood Program, Mrs. Frank Baran, Nearly New Clothing Center, Mrs. Vanetta Leimkuehler; CROP, Mrs. George Vogeler; Friends in Learning, Mrs. Charles Hunsinger; Layettes, Mrs. Frank Ehlert; Fellowship of the Least Coin, Mrs. Dee Roberts; and Senior Service, Mrs. Grace Lensing.

The group's projects, funded through contributions from church groups and individuals, are administered totally by volunteers.

Mrs. Henderson announced the organization will hold a rummage sale April 2 to dispose of unneeded adult clothing which has accumulated at the Nearly New Clothing Center.

The center, which has been supplying clothing to needy individuals of all ages in the Quad-Cities, has been forced to restrict its services to school-age children only because storage space is extremely limited at its present location, not normally donated to the center.

Church Women United presently is looking for larger quarters so it may eventually expand to adequately serve all who are in need of clothing, Mrs. Henderson said.

Proceeds from the rummage sale will be used to purchase articles of clothing, such as shoes and underwear, which are not normally donated to the center.

After the assembly, refreshments were served by the United Presbyterian Women of the host church.

Tri-City Shrine Club installs Jos. Wallace

Sunset Hills Country Club was the scene of the installation dinner dance of the Tri-City Shrine Club Friday evening. More than 250 attended.

Joseph Wallace of Granite City was installed as president of the 465-member local organization.

Other officers installed were: Dr. Stanley Maer, vice-president; Donald Treaster, recording secretary; George Stevenson, financial secretary and Kelly Hogan, treasurer.

Members of the club's board of directors are Dan Partney, Charlie Hays, Kerry Ervay and Lloyd Whitworth.

Warren Decatur offered the invocation preceding dinner.

The retiring president, Chester Dean, gave the welcoming address and introduced Bob Hardy of Radio Station KMOX, chief rabban of Ainad Shrine Temple, who served as master of ceremonies.

After accepting the office of president, Wallace presented Dean with a gift from the club and a past president's pin.

Among the guests were members of the Divan of Ainad Shrine Temple and their ladies. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

Wallace is a member of Triple Lodge 835, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, and is a past president of the Ainad Temple Oriental Band.

The Shriners own and operate 22 hospitals in North America with an annual budget exceeding $35 million.

Telephone

2. Call forwarding — By dialing a special code, a customer can have calls forwarded automatically to any other number.

3. Three-way calling — A customer can bring a third party into a conversation by briefly depressing the switch hook, getting a dial tone and dialing the third party's number. When the third party answers, another flick of the switch hook makes the conversation three-way.

4. Speed calling — A customer can reach his most frequently called numbers faster by dialing only two or three digits.

Information concerning the new services and their costs was sent to customers in a special letter early this month.

Customers experiencing ESS for the first time will notice that the dial tone and ringing will be lower pitched.

They will no longer hear the clicking sounds in the background as the seven or more digits they dial go through.

"Because of the speed of the new equipment and the change in what people hear," Evers said, "they sometimes think something is wrong with their phone. Sometimes they even call repair service. But the new equipment provides not only equal but improved service.

"The new electronic switching system No. 1 replaces the No. 5 cross-bar system installed when the telephone building on Edison Avenue was built in 1950," Evers told the Press-Record.

The electro-mechanical system that has been replaced occupies half of the main floor and all of the second floor of the building.

It has been walled off from the new computer system and will be removed.

Work has been in progress for nearly a year to create the new switching system in an area of the main floor previously occupied by the commercial office. The latter office has been relocated at No. 2 Crossroads Plaza.

The task included replacement of the main frame linking the office with world-wide telephone connections.

Mayor Schuler telephoned the office of the lord-mayor of London to inaugurate international direct distance dialing here and to demonstrate the conference call service. A statewide telephone news communication line served as the third party in the Granite City-London call.

The lord-mayor was attending an art exhibition, it was explained during the trans-Atlantic conversation between Mayor Schuler and the lord-mayor's personal secretary, Admiral Ellis.

The admiral recalled with "warmth and affection" serving as a British Naval officer on American ships during World Wide II.

Mayor Schuler described the local community and thanked the London official for participating in the call.

Asks higher board to drop plan for tuition increase

Illinois State Sen. Richard H. Newhouse, Jr., (D-Chicago) has urged the Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE) to abandon its plan to seek tuition increases at state colleges and universities this week in Chicago at the first in a series of public hearings on a master plan for higher education.

BHE proposed earlier this month a tuition increase of $60 per year for undergraduate students and $90 per year for graduate students. The increase would become effective this fall.

The BHE master plan proposes that by 1980, undergraduate tuition should be increased to one-third of instructional costs, and graduate tuition should be one-third higher, than the charge for undergraduates. Additionally, the plan proposes that tuition waviers be limited to two per cent of enrollment.

Conceding that more money for higher education must come from somewhere, Senator Newhouse said, "I strongly recommend that tuition increases be the last area invaded."

In lieu of tuition increases Newhouse suggested the BHE seek the additional funds needed to meet the rising costs of higher education through larger appropriations from the state.

He said he would personally act favorably on such a request and urge other legislators to do likewise if that would eliminate the need to raise tuitions at public institutions. Newhouse is a member of the Education Committee of the Illinois legislature.

"If the BHE goes through with its plan to raise tuitions, it will mean students with the greatest need for assistance will be the ones deprived of education," Newhouse said.

Among others testifying in opposition to the proposed tuition increase was Emil Jason, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Jason heads an SIU task force leading a state-wide battle in opposition to the proposed tuition increase.

Jason said, "This action creates a most severe hardship for the middle income ($10,000 to $20,000 per year) families because students from this income group are eligible for little, if any, financial assistance."

According to Jason, a tuition increase can only be viewed as a deterrent to those individuals most dependent on public education for economic and social advancement and as an unfair tax burden placed upon their families.

"Moreover" Jason added, "a limitation on tuition waivers will work a particular hardship on institutions charged with bringing higher education to the socially disadvantaged and minority population of the state."

The BHE public hearings will continue at various state locations through Jan. 21. Belleville Community College will host a public hearing on Jan. 20. The first meeting was held in Springfield Thursday and one is scheduled at Carbondale Jan. 21.

While the BHE lacks the legal authority to order a tuition increase, the board does hold the power of budget over each university system.

PROPER INSTRUCTION on the approach and delivery of the bowling ball is given by Leon Hudson, of Granite City, president of the Cahokia Chapter of the Illinois Association of the Deaf, to Charles Chappel of Cahokia, at a special bowling party given by the deaf organization for deaf and hearing impaired children. The party was held at the Tri-Mor Bowl in Granite City.

VW STOLEN

David McIntire, 2027 Pontoon Road, reported the theft of his 1963 Volkswagen from outside his house Thursday.

Deaf youngsters entertained

The Cahokia Chapter of the Illinois Association of the Deaf sponsored a bowling party at Tri-Mor Bowl in Granite City for the deaf and hearing impaired children who attend classes in the area.

Three free games of bowling and free coffee and soda were provided to 80 deaf children and adults by the bowling establishment.

Chapter President Leon Hudson, 74 Shirlwin Drive, Granite City, said classes for hearing impaired are held in Granite City, East St. Louis, Freeburg, South Roxana, Belleville, East Alton, Sparta, Cahokia and O'Fallon.

Many of the deaf children who attend the classes had not met deaf adults previously, and were excited to have the deaf adults as coaches during the bowling session, Hudson added. He said plans are being discussed to form a bowling league for the children, with deaf adults serving as coaches.

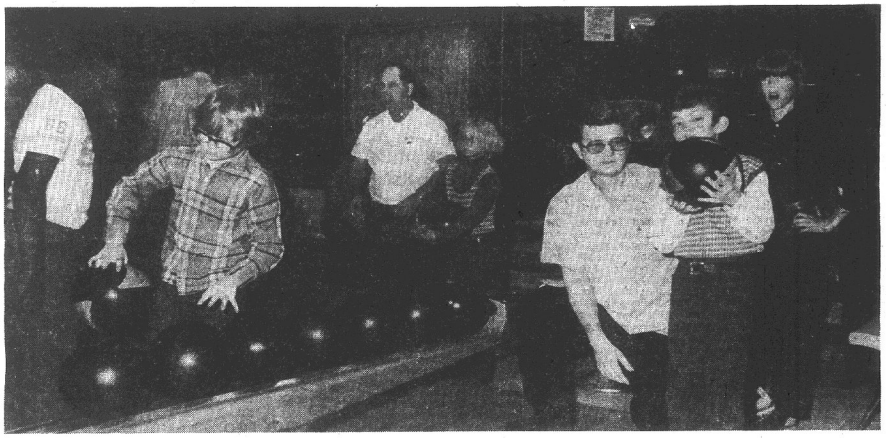

The Cahokia Chapter is affiliated with the Illinois Association of the Deaf and the National Association of the Deaf. Other newly-elected officers are Mattie Hanners of Granite City, vice-president; Erma Lillico, Cahokia, recording secretary, and Russell Mueller, Fairview Heights, treasurer. Trustees are George Lillico of Cahokia, Madeline Luck of Fairview Heights, Mike Burp of Dupo, and sergeant at arms Jeffrey Stafford of Granite City.

Mrs. Mary Lou Hudson, a chapter member, serves on the State Association board of directors and is Mass Media chairman for the southern part of the state.

Among the activities in which the chapter has participated are the distribution of sign language books to area libraries, adult activities for members, and assisting with plans for deaf programs on television, both captioned or interpreted.

New projects include a voter registration drive for the deaf and their relatives; sponsoring the St. Louis Deaf Drama Guild in presenting a performance in the Illinois area, better telephone services for the deaf and an Illinois State Fair Booth. They also plan to arrange for a family campout and Bicentennial banquet.

Deaf and hearing persons interested in the deaf are invited to attend the chapter meetings held on the fourth Friday night of each month at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison, at 7 o'clock, according to the president.

BOWLING PARTY. Deaf and hearing impaired children participate in the game of bowling for the first time at Tri-Mor Bowl at a party arranged by the Cahokia Chapter of the Illinois Association of the Deaf, which has many Quad-City members. Eighty deaf children and adults took part in the project, with instruction given by deaf adults. Shown from left are Greg Lowry of Venice; Danny Noble, selecting the right ball; Darrell Furlow, waiting to bowl; Lloyd Judge of Granite City, giving encouragement to Steve Adams of Granite City, and Eric Grote, formerly of this area.

150 students from other lands attending SIUE

Foreign invasions are not pleasant, according to history, but there is one taking place at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville that is not only pleasant but is opening new horizons to all SIUE students.

Over 150 students from other lands are seeking college degrees at SIUE. Their reasons for choosing the University are numerous, but for many, SIUE offers just the program they are looking for.

Two foreign students, Ruth Ann Fraser and Taffy Hornell, both graduates of the University of Windsor in Ontario, Canada, are working toward their master of fine arts degree in printmaking at SIUE. They could not obtain their master's degree from a Canadian university since very few schools in their country have an MFA program.

Both students said "word of mouth" is what convinced them to attend SIUE. Ruth said she chose SIUE because a friend recommended it.

According to Taffy, her instructors in Canada helped her choose a university. "All my teachers at Windsor are American, and I sort of picked their brains about where I should go to school," she said. "They all had heard a lot of good things about SIUE."

Taffy graduated from Windsor in 1974, but she stayed on at the university as an assistant in printing. "This gave me time to sort out what I really wanted to do," she said. "Time to think was very important for me because an MFA is a terminal type of thing. You have to know what you want. It is more than being a student because we are really doing what we want to do...important work."

When they graduate, both women are interested in opening independent printing studios in Canada. They said that currently there are few printing facilities for Canadian artists. Ruth said that due to this shortage, many artists have to enroll in Canadian art schools just to have a place to do their printing.

Despite heavy class loads and preparing art works for exhibits and classes, both students have had some time to observe America. There may not have been too much cultural shock in their move to SIUE, but according to Ruth there are differences.

"Cigarettes are different," Ruth offered. "America is nice, but it is different from Canada. The difference is mostly in small things like attitudes."

But Ruth jokingly added that the biggest difference is, "Everyone is American here, except of course, for Taffy."

Estate planning seminar

Will your estate be handled according to your wishes?

Persons who would like to learn more about state and federal laws regarding estate and inheritance settlements are invited to attend an estate planning seminar to be held Feb. 3 in Madison County.

The 1 p.m. seminar will be held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville. The Illinois Farm Bureau Women's Committee and the Illinois Young Farmer's Committee will sponsor the seminar.

One lawyer, representing the Illinois Bar Association, and a lawyer from Country Life Insurance Co. will conduct the seminar under the direction of Albert K. Semmler, director of insurance planning for Country Life.

Topics to be covered in the seminar include: what is estate planning, what should estate planning include, and who should be involved.

Basic personal and legal considerations in planning an estate also will be discussed as well as some of the specifics of estate planning, such as wills, trusts, gifts, taxes and insurance. Methods of holding property which are most conducive to estate planning also will be discussed.

"It is not uncommon for most people to be uncertain as to how to go about setting up an estate plan," Semmler said. "We won't be able to cure all problems in the seminar, but we can help people become aware if they are sitting on top of a severe estate planning problem."

The booklet "Estate Planning Problems of the Farmer" will be distributed to those who attend the seminar. The booklet is published cooperatively by the Illinois Agricultural Association, the Illinois Bar Association and the University of Illinois College of Law.

Vegetable growers school

A School for Vegetable growers of Southwest Illinois and the St. Louis area will be held at Collinsville on Jan. 28 and 29. On Wednesday, Jan. 28, the meeting will be at the Holiday Inn, and on Thursday, Jan. 29, the meeting will be at the Roundtable Restaurant. The program starts at 9:45 a.m. on both days.

Culture of vegetables will be discussed on Wednesday. University of Illinois Extension Specialists Barry Jacobsen and Roscoe Randell will discuss pest control measures, Loren Bode will describe how to calibrate sprayers, and Herb Hopen will give weed control suggestions.

State Rep. Everette Steele, 56th legislative district, will review the Workman's Compensation Law and agriculture-related bills. An update on federal rules and regulations will be presented by Ron Cornwell, Madison County Extension Adviser.

Varieties and research with plastics will be explained by Bill Courter of Dixon Springs. Bill Glasscock, a farmer from Joliet will tell how he grows and sells sweet corn.

On Thursday, horseradish culture will be the subject all day, with emphasis on methods of preventing insect and disease outbreaks.

This program is sponsored jointly by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and the Tri-County Vegetable Growers Association, and is open to everyone interested in commercial vegetable growing and selling.

Vadalabene opposes tuition hike

"We must not kill off our schools, reducing enrollments while increasing costs," Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) told the Board of Higher Education in a statement filed for a hearing held in Springfield Thursday.

"It is a well-known fact that enrollment figures at our colleges and universities have been going down in the recent past," Vadalabene observed. "Any number of reasons may be put forward for this; but one certain and unimpeachable one is that education is simply being priced off the market for all except the considerably affluent.

"This has posed grave problems for private education. More important, however, it represents a cruel abrogation of public responsibility. For now we see the doors to our public institutions being effectively closed to ever-enlarging segments of our middle classes."

Pointing out that the area he represents, "the second most populous area of Illinois, the eastern segment of the metropolitan St. Louis area," was facing a vast variety of special problems, Vadalabene saw the answer to the situation in "the fullest possible development of all educational resources presently at our command.

"From my standpoint," he continued, "the worst enemy to this development is the BHE. The master plan under discussion is so devoid of sensitivity, decency and understanding to the burdens we bear and the dreams we dream that I will not dignify it with specifics.

"It is the product of medjocre, bureaucratic mentalities indulging in the figments of a mechanistic imagination.

"It has about as much soul as a computer. It has about as much relevance to the present and future needs of the area I must answer to as the flight plan of a Kamikaze pilot."

Describing the proposed increase in tuition as "a built-in self-destruct mechanism that will automatically insure the drastic deterioration of our institutions of higher learning," Vadalabene contended that "we must do all that we can to insure access to educational resources to the highest level to which our citizens might aspire.

"Though we have been dragged through years of double-digit inflation and soaring unemployment by a flint-hearted national administration, we must continue to assert priorities on our part based on humane, decent values," Vadalabene added.

"Although the master plan is founded on utilitarian, pragmatic values to the core, let us hope that there are other people in this state who recognize formal education as good in itself. Let us proclaim to the world that our schools offer to every citizen the potential for being a wiser participant in public affairs and a happier human being in the full growth of his life."

Admitting that this would be a "a hard ideal to bring to actuality," Vadalabene maintained that "we must begin to roll back the basic costs of higher education for those who want to take advantage of this precious public resource. That means, even in this time of severe fiscal stress, that we must attempt to cut costs elsewhere.

"The fact is that students are the soul-food that enables our colleges and universities to prosper and grow," Vadalabene claimed. "Declining enrollments mean dying institutions. There are enough forces loose in the land making it more difficult for students to go to our colleges and universities without our putting into effect a policy that in a vast number of cases would erect a difficulty into an impossibility."

Vadalabene objected to the strategy of tying a salary increase for faculty and staff to a tuition increase. Observing that on both the state and national level a brand of politics has been practiced "appealing to all of the baser instincts in man: selfishness, fear and unreasoning anger," he pointed out, "This kind of politics follows the adage of Caesar: Divide and conquer.

"By tying a tuition increase to a salary increase for those who teach and staff our institutions," he stated, "the BHE is practicing precisely this kind of chicanery. For it would set student and parent against teacher and administrator, while the BHE stands cooly aloof, fiddling as our bright hopes for the future burn away. Thus we must face harder facts."

Valadabene said, "We cannot demand that those who serve with dedication have their compensation increased by a mere 5 per cent if we hold the line on tuition. Even the most glowing predictions out of Washington, which must be taken with a grain of salt, predict an inflation rate of 7 per cent for the coming year. For the past few years, salary increases have not kept pace with inflation. Thus, in real dollars, our teachers have been taking cuts. At best, this year the board offers them a carrot of simply keeping pace with the rise in cost of living, while beating the student with the stick of a tuition increase.

"This is the measure of concern which the BHE, which was meant to foster and guide higher education, shows for the previous state resource given to its care. I don't think we can wait for the Lord to wreak his vengeance on such stupidity and irresponsibility. We must take legislative steps, backed up by executive, to show our poor and middle class citizens that we are aware of their burdens.

"With this master plan," Vadalabene concluded, "the BHE has come to us with proposals emblematic of moral bankruptcy and devoid of civil sense. If our higher educational system, built with such labor and care over the years, has such friends, it can forget about its enemies."

More collector plates on order

Because of unusually high early interest, an additional 10,000 collector's metal plates of the 1976 Illinois Bicentennial license have been ordered, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has announced.

First shipment of 5,000 collector's plates have been sold over-the-counter or distributed since being placed on sale early this month at all secretary of state motor vehicle and driver service facilities.

"Over 1,200 of the plates were sold over-the-counter in Springfield the first two days they were available for sale," Howlett said. "All orders will be filled from the new shipment as soon as the plates arrive."

The collector's plate, which sells for $3, is a metal replica of the 1976 passenger license in red, white and blue. It carries USA-200 in the middle and "collector" is placed vertically on both sides.

Expanded state assistance provided local governments

Services and technical and financial assistance to local governments throughout the State of Illinois were significantly expanded by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs (DLGA) during 1975 according to the department director, Frank A. Kirk.

He reported that highlights of the stepped-up activity during the year included: assisting 36 local governments to obtain a total of more than $2.8 million in grants; establishing an Office of Manpower Programs to help conduct manpower planning in 70 Illinois counties under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA); providing major assistance to Canton following the July 23 tornado; creating numerous councils of local government officials; helping to enact a law limiting assessed valuation of real estate to one-third of market value.

As part of its program to help local governments obtain grants, the Department held 14 workshops to provide assistance to 45 counties and 120 localities in preparation and submission of applications and program administration.

When the Department's new Office of Manpower Programs was established, Governor Walker formed 20 regional manpower committees. The committees, comprised of a cross-section of people from each region, were designed to develop manpower programs at the local level. The department provided staff to help identify needs, develop programs, answer questions on federal regulations and establish job training programs. Programs developed will be funded by $30,000,000 from the U.S. Department of Labor.

Director Kirk said one of the most satisfying activities of the department during the year was the assistance provided to Canton after the tornado.

The department was able to secure 20 trailer pads to accommodate emergency mobile homes for displaced families. The department, coordinating its effort with the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) was able to provide housing assistance to 150 families.

The DLGA also helped the City of Canton in organizing an accounting and reporting system, to keep an accurate record of how and where federal disaster assistance funds were spent so the city would not lose any disaster funds to which it was entitled.

The department's aggressive support of intergovernmental cooperation between local communities fostered a large number of councils whose members from neighboring communities have worked out mutual arrangements on boundaries, land use, pollution control, police protection, parks and economic growth.

A handbook by the department describing case histories of successful intergovernmental agreements and discussing pertinent legal aspects, will be available early this year for local government officials.

As a result of Governor Walker signing into law a bill limiting assessed valuation of real estate to one-third of market value, the courts are now prevented from requiring counties to raise their assessment levels to 50 per cent.

Such assessments would have caused sharp increases in local property taxes. Prior to the new law, the department had frozen the property tax multiplier to prevent local property tax increases.

Kirk cited as other new programs and achievements during the year: the department co-sponsored with the Departments of Public Health and Agriculture a series of six Mosquito Abatement Awareness seminars across the state to prevent the reoccurrence of an encephalitis outbreak; increased involvement in helping communities solve the problems of their downtown business areas and publication of a comprehensive Downtown Improvement Manual; provided assistance to more than 1,000 families through an experimental housing allowance program conducted by the department in the Peoria area through a special HUD grant. The program has been described by HUD as one of the best administered programs in the country.

'The Adams Chronicles' new series on Channel 9

"The Adams Chronicles", a dramatic series about the extraordinary family which gave America two presidents, a vice-president and an enormous number of important historical figures, airs at 8 p.m. Tuesdays and 10 p.m. Saturdays, beginning Jan. 20 and 24 on KETC-TV, Channel 9.

The Tuesday broadcast will be captioned for the hearing impaired.

Drawing from the talents of nine playwrights, five directors, and hundreds of actors (including such prominent performers as John Houseman), the series is designed to go beyond the mere facts and events defining John Adams and his descendants to present a profile of the individual personalities.

Events that shaped the history of an emerging nation are woven among the family's own development.

More than five years in the planning, "The Adams Chronicles" has been described as the largest and most significant dramatic series to be produced by non-commercial television in the United States. Partially responsible for the vastness of the project is the fact that total historical authenticity has been emphasized.

The 13 screenplays have been largely based on the Adams papers, a 300,000 page collection of journals, diaries, and letters by members of the Adams family entrusted to the Massachusetts Historical Society.

A viewer's guide is available to Channel 9 members for $1. Requests may be made to: Channel 9, 6996 Millbrook Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63130.

Veteran benefits explained

Veterans Administration counselors at any VA office will provide the answers to questions concerning veteran benefits. Some of these problems, and the answers, follow:

Q—I was recently separated from the Army under honorable conditions after 20 months of active duty. Could you tell me how many months of GI Bill education benefits I'll get based on my length of service?

A—With 20 months of honorable active duty a veteran would have 36 months of entitlement. Under limited conditions there may be up to nine additional months of entitlement. Certain courses such as high school or deficiency courses can be paid for but do not count against entitlement.

Q—Is a veteran eligible for the car allowance if he has lost the use of a limb, (service connected) although he is not rated 100 per cent for his service-connected disability?

A—The veteran does not have to be rated 100 per cent in order to be eligible for an automobile grant. If he has lost the use of a limb which is service connected, he meets the eligibility requirements.

Q—If a veteran dies while indebted to Veterans Administration, will the VA withhold the amount of his indebtedness from the widow's benefits?

A—No. The widow is not responsible for the indebtedness of the veteran. It will be determined whether or not the veteran left an estate from which recovery could be made. If he has no estate, the finance officer has the authority to write off the debt as uncollectable, if not in excess of $20,000.

Tree roots cover large area

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Lawn and Garden Authority

A recent study reported in the American Nurseryman magazine revealed that tree roots cover about 4.5 times as much area as the tops. In terms of square feet of area a tree with a branch spread of 10 feet would have a root spread of more than 20 feet. There was a great deal of regeneration of roots, thus explaining the predominance of small roots rather than a lot of large roots.

This study supported observations of others that tree roots are not uniformly distributed. Tree roots were more numerous in areas of optimum moisture. This apparently is not due to an intentional effort by the tree but rather a difference in speed, based on available water, air and fertilizer.

Redecorating of your living room and other areas of the house is an accepted fact of life. Yet many never apply the same philosophy to the home landscape. Most landscape shrubs eventually become too big and leggy. Hedges finally outgrow their usefulness, particularly if they are improperly pruned. Vines and flowers become monotonous.

Is it un-thought-of to replant a portion of your property or replace occasional plants in your home landscape for new effects and better utilization of our properties? A wider range of plant material coming into the landscape trade can produce the new and different effects if you plan carefully and shop for those plant selections.

Club to hear candidates

Plans to hold a "Candidates Night" at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 11, was finalized at a meeting last week of the Granite City Democratic Club at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

President Nick Petrillo conducted the business session and announced invitations will be sent to all political candidates to take part in the February meeting.

Judge Horace Calvo was the featured speaker at the meeting and explained the judicial system.

The president reported Mildred Adams is a member of the current club membership committee.

After the meeting, the evening prize was awarded to George Valicoff and refreshments were served to 95 members.

G. C. Steel

slow. One of our two blast furnaces was taken down for relining May 15 and it was not until December that customer orders justified returning to two-furnace production," Love recalled.

"Handling of raw materials at the blast furnace area in Granite City was made more efficient when we completed conveyors and other parts of a new system to move and screen iron ore pellets and sinter.

"A semi-automatic charging system was installed at the rebuilt blast furnace. A new steam boiler will support added blower capacity and provide more blast air for the furnaces.

"Granite City Steel's finishing department showed continued improvement in yield and productivity. And we met the steel quality requirements of our customers," he said proudly.

"In our production of hot rolled coils for our customers and for other National Steel divisions, our 80-inch hot strip mill showed a substantial productivity increase. Delays were reduced by preventive maintenance and mechanical and electrical improvement.

"Environmental improvements have continued. State and federal approval was received for the design, construction and installation of an enclosed control system invented at Granite City Steel for coke oven pushing emissions.

"This new system will capture contaminants released when finished coke is pushed from an oven. Emission control at that point has been one of the steel industry's toughest remaining environmental problems.

"The Granite City Steel Division has applied for state and federal approval of plans for an advanced water treatment system costing $10½ million. It will allow about two-thirds of our large volume of process water—70 million gallons a day—to be recycled after tertiary treatment.

"The new facilities will be added to the present lagoon treatment system and are designed to bring Granite City Steel into compliance with the 1985 Clean Water Act standards by mid-1977," Love told the Press-Record.

How efficient will it be for Chairman Stinson to be based in the Super Bowl football championship city of Pittsburgh and President Love to be operating from the St. Louis area, where he has children in school and where his family has developed many friendships?

"The two of us have had a good relationship for the last 15 or 20 years. We exchange information and ideas, and we know what to expect from each other," Love said.

Stinson, who joined Thursday afternoon's interview with the Press-Record, voiced confidence that the arrangement will work smoothly. There have been previous periods in National Steel history in which a chief operating officer was located away from the headquarters city.

It was indicated that the St. Louis metropolitan area offers an ideal geographic area for Love. His corporate-wide duties will include many trips to the Chicago area, where a vast expansion program is planned at Midwest Steel, and to Liberty, Tex., where a brand-new pipe plant is scheduled to open in April.

The Texas facility is of extra interest here because it is believed likely to be a major user of steel rolled in Granite City.

"We'll be broadening our diversification in fabricated steel products with the 400,000-square-foot plant on the Texas Gulf coast," Love related. "It was chaos there yesterday due to the construction work still in progress, but it's rapidly nearing completion.

"We'll be helping to supply the strong growth market for welded oil-country pipe and tubing.

"National Steel will be able to ship steel economically by barge to the new plant. The 150-acre site is on the Trinity River, about midway between Houston and Beaumont.

"The planned primary steelmaking facilities at Midwest Steel and the expansion of our steel producing plants at Granite City, Weirton, W. Va. (Pittsburgh area) and Great Lakes (Detroit vicinity) assure National Pipe and Tube of a dependable supply of steel.

"The oil country products we will make with a staff of 350 should help the nation meet the present and future energy needs.

"Designed for yearly capacity of 334,000 tons, the new plant will have an 11-inch pipe mill with high-frequency welder, a 24-stand stretch reduction mill and a 56-barrel gas-fired normalizing furnace.

"Quench and temper facilities will allow production of high-strength tubing and casing for offshore and deep hole drilling.

"High-speed carbide threading and end finishing facilities will be available, as well as sophisticated non-destructive testing equipment and modern hydrostatic and physical testing facilities.

"We will have one of only two plants in the U. S. capable of producing full-bodied, normalized, stretch-reduced line pipe with superior qualities resulting from its homogenous metallurgy.

"Along with welded oil well casing and tubing, line pipe and upset tubing, we will produce structural square tubing for farm implement manufacturers, the construction industry and other markets, and also merchant pipe and mechanical tubing. And the new plant will be capable of making rigid conduit hollows."

Love is enthusiastic about National Steel's ability to meet present and changing requirements, and he indicates that Granite City Steel looms large in future planning. Announcements regarding local facilities are believed likely in 1976.

His travel schedule already has increased substantially since the added responsibilities were placed on his shoulders a month ago.

Despite such travel, the relatively small size of the headquarters staff—which includes former Granite Cityan Melvin McKay—places heavy reliance on the management of each plant and division, Love commented.

"There are strengths and weaknesses of this degree of decentralization, but we are convinced that good use can be made of the strengths."

He said he views the 13-week Harvard Business School Advanced Management Program as being of great value in broadening the approach of individuals whose leadership qualities have led them to top rungs of the managerial ladder. Among the Advanced Management graduates is Granite City Steel President McBride and Geqrge Pulianas, newly-named National Steel assistant vice-president and assistant to the president.

National Steel officers present in Pittsburgh on Thursday to confer with newsmen, besides Stinson and Love, included W. S. Schwoebel, senior vice president-finance; G. B. Angevine, vice president, general counsel and secretary; R. M. Deaner, vice president-engineering.

Also W. F. Ewart, vice president-commercial; Ralph W. Shaw, vice president-marketing development; Fred E. Tucker, vice president-public affairs; Ralph W. Purdy, new vice president of environmental control; R. S. Smith, group vice president; and J. F. Devaney, vice president and general manager of National Aluminum.

Aside from wire news services and Pittsburgh area publications, those conferring with the corporate officers included representatives of Business Week, Wall Street Journal, American Metal Market, Industry Week, Iron and Steel Engineer and Iron Age.

Also in Pittsburgh Thursday and Friday was Nicholas P. Veeder, a National Steel board member and retired Granite City Steel chairman.

DRIVER HURT

Susan M. Myers, 23, of Collinsville, was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4:40 p.m. Friday following an accident in which the car she was driving west on Pontoon Road collided with a car driven by William E. Rains, 35, of 2865 Iowa St. heading east on Pontoon Road and making a left turn into the International House of Pancakes restaurant. Rains was given a traffic ticket for not having a city license.

Masked bandits rob drive-in restaurant

About $125 in cash and change was stolen by two masked robbers who entered Junior's Drive-In, 1371 Edwardsville Road, at 2:50 a.m. today, it was reported.

An employe said the two robbers wore ski masks and had smeared their faces and hands with black grease.

They entered when there were two customers in the restaurant and one man displayed a small-caliber automatic pistol and said, "Everyone stay where you are. This is a holdup."

The men walked to the back of the counter and ordered a woman employe to open the cash register. She did and the contents were emptied into a white paper bag, police were told.

The men then demanded one customer's wallet. He said there was no money in it and the men took the empty wallet and searched it, throwing it on the floor when they were finished, the victims related.

The second customer was asked if he had any money and he replied he did not, it was reported. The robbers then left through the front door and walked east on 14th Street.

Each robber was about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, and each weighed about 145 pounds, the victims said. The gunman had a dark jacket and blue and white checked trousers.

The other robber wore light blue trousers and green cotton gloves with the fingers cut out, police were told.

Officers searched the area after the robbery, but were unable to locate anyone matching the description of the robbers.

Good outdoor lighting protects your property

Good outdoor lighting helps keep burglars or vandals off your property. That's an important first step in any homeowner's crime prevention program. With well-planned outdoor lighting you also get a bonus in convenience and accident prevention, thanks to illuminated grounds and walkways.

Outdoor post lanterns operate automatically (on at dusk, off at dawn) providing all-night security. The outdoor Nite Lite, mounted on a pole, casts a wide beam of light. It, too, is automatic and provides vital protection for property not illuminated by regular street lights. Outdoor floodlights around garages or other buildings can be controlled from inside your house or at the location of the light.

For information on the Nite Lite rental program or other outdoor security lighting, ask at our office. Good lighting provides peace of mind and is a wise use of energy.

Laws on privacy, merit judge selection urged

Legislative proposals of Governor Daniel Walker were outlined as follows in last week's "state of the state" message:

It is fitting that, in this Bicentennial year, we look to our beginnings as a nation, to the principles of equality, liberty and justice which are the bedrock of our republic.

The words and deeds of a small band of great men and women who formed our nation, charted our destiny and shaped our lives have stood the test of time. What they said and did two centuries ago has endured.

This is a time to reaffirm those principles, to extend them and apply them to the changing conditions of our world today.

This is a time to remember the sacrifices of Valley Forge, to remember all those who gave their lives for this country in the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, two World Wars, Korea and Viet Nam — and to be thankful that today we have peace.

Courage. Self-reliance. Wisdom. Leadership. Good old-fashioned common sense. Those were the qualities of the people who fought for freedom in 1776. Those are the qualities needed in Illinois and throughout the nation in 1976.

We should look back to draw strength from our heritage, build on the accomplishments of the past, and face the future with confidence.

We have the material resources and the spiritual determination to tackle the difficult problems that lie ahead.

At stake is our health, our vitality, our capacity to do good things and to leave a democratic legacy to our children and their children.

We need the iron resolve, the unswerving dedication to duty that was in abundance early in our nation's history.

Our state, Illinois, is sound.

We have been jarred by circumstances: Recession. Inflation. The energy crisis. Still, we are basically healthy.

But there is work to be done. It is time for facing up, for confronting critical problems. Forcefully, head-on, we can lick them.

My three critical goals for 1976 are:

ONE, PERSONAL SAFETY. After 200 years, must we be afraid to walk through the park or take public transportation late at night?

Must we fear being blown apart at an airport terminal, or grabbed in an alley, or robbed and beaten on the way to work? Or have our children held hostage?

TWO, HOLDING THE LINE ON TAXES. NO NEW TAXES FOR THE BELEAGURED TAXPAYER.

We can and will maintain, and improve vital services: education, health, help for the less fortunate among us. But we cannot and will not increase taxes.

THREE, OPEN AND HONEST GOVERNMENT. Part of the job is done. We now have a sound campaign disclosure law. But, it's time to move on to require disclosure of personal finances.

Under my executive order, upheld by the Supreme Court, 10,000 state employes have made full disclosure of their personal finances.

I have done so — and I believe all elected officials should, by law, be required to do no less.

If 10,000 state employes can make detailed public disclosure, then so should the elected leaders of the state. The people demand to know whether anyone is profiting from the public trust.

There are critical areas where legislative action is needed.

Ethics: In addition to requiring full personal financial disclosure for all elected officials, we need legislation requiring disclosure of land trust beneficiaries, tightening up regulation of lobbyists and preventing double dipping.

Consumer protection. It is time to abolish confession of judgment clauses, and revise the deficiency judgment law.

We should require more disclosure in the area of warranty, home repair, auto repair, shelf life dating for perishable foods and funeral practices.

The Equal Rights amendment. This amendment should be adopted now. In addition, legislation securing equal status for women in our society is needed.

And so is legislation assuring that the rape victim is treated with dignity and is not further humiliated by the legal system.

Generic drugs. Legislation is needed to facilitate the filling of prescriptions by generic drugs instead of with brand names. Under this legislation, each elderly citizen of this state would save close to $100 in a year.

Mortgage practices. Illinois last year led the way in enacting legislation to put an end to the practice of "red-lining." We are the first state to require financial institutions to publicly disclose, by zip code, their mortgage investments.

Congress enacted legislation based on the Illinois disclosure law. But much remains to be done, the most important of which relates to the mortgage payment forebearance bills.

This would, by law, give the homeowner a one-year period of grace in which to overcome economic hardship.

It would alleviate the situation where a man who loses his job and then loses his home before he has a chance to get back on his feet.

It would slow down the foreclosure practices which have blighted so many neighborhoods.

Privacy. In this age of the computer, institutions of all kinds maintain extensive records on individuals. All too frequently, that information is false, incomplete and out-of-date.

All too frequently, it is rumor and gossip. All too frequently, it secretly prevents a person from getting credit or getting a job.

Last year, the Governor's Commission on Privacy proposed bills to prevent misuse of information by schools, businesses and government. One bill, the school records bill, passed. The other two did not. They will be reintroduced.

No-fault insurance. We need true no-fault insurance which will lead to prompt payment of claims and will lower—or at least hold the line on—the cost of insurance to the consumer.

Labor legislation. We need a minimum wage bill to extend federal standards to Illinois workers.

While collective bargaining at the state level is under way smoothly at the state level under my executive order, we should have a law establishing and regulating collective bargaining for all public employes.

Merit selection of Judges. I continue to support a constitutional amendment calling for the merit selection of judges. If this proves impossible to pass Downstate, then I believe we should consider going for merit selection in Cook County, since the voters there have approved it in principle by referendum.

State Board of Elections. The constitutional mandate must be implemented. And, there should be at least one independent member of the board.

We have a duty — to our inheritance, to the people of Illinois and to future generations. We may not achieve all the goals I have outlined. But we must try.

Above all, we must fight for three goals:

The personal safety of our citizens; no tax increase; and open and honest government.

If we can help protect the personal safety of our citizens, if we can protect the people against runaway taxes, and if we can assure the 11 million people of this state of the integrity of its public officials, then we will be worthy of the inheritance passed to us.

If we do this, this closing year of the 79th General Assembly will be viewed and remembered as a year of accomplishment.

Dollars alone cannot solve school, other needs—Walker

Financial comments by Governor Daniel Walker in the 1976 "state of the state" address to legislators last week:

It has always been true that demands for dollars for government spending have far exceeded the dollars available.

In the last two years, 27 states increased taxes. In Illinois, we held the line on taxes. It was not easy last year. It will not be easy this year.

Four years ago, I pledged no new taxes. I have renewed that pledge in each ensuing year. I renew that pledge now.

There will be no tax increase. People do not want more taxes. They will not tolerate more taxes.

Repeatedly in our history, leaders have stood up for what they believed . . . often when it led them into confrontation with powerful adversaries.

Like others before me, I shall not hesitate to confront, to stand up for what I believe is right, in the interest of the people of this state.

Today, we must confront the powerful lobbyists and special interests who would spend us into new heights of taxation.

To those who say we should spend money we do not have, to those who demand more, more, more, the answer must be "No, No, No."

Sometime back I heard a political leader tell this body that it took guts to raise taxes; well, I think it takes guts to hold the line on taxes and spending. It takes guts to resist the pressures of the special interest groups, and the people of Illinois are proud of those members of both parties who had the guts to do that.

I will not take Illinois down the road of spend, borrow and spend. Some may be taking that road by borrowing for operations. Others may be urging it for the state. But I, for one, will not let Illinois fall into the New York trap.

We all recognize that our fiscal condition is tight. But, we expect to end the fiscal year with an available balance of close to $100 million.

We must watch our cash flow and continue to hold the line on over-spending. We can; we will.

Since I took office, the number of employes under the governor have been reduced by about 4,000. Under my direction, tight controls have been placed on use of state cars, travel, printing and other administrative costs. Those will continue.

In the budget message, I will propose several reorganizations in order to streamline operations and effect still additional savings.

As I will outline in my budget message in March, we will continue to maintain and improve vital services this year as we have in each year of this administration. And we will do it without any increase in taxes.

The basic obligations of our state government are to educate; to provide for the health and general welfare of our citizens; to care for the less fortunate, and to take as little as possible from our citizens in order to free up the greatest resource we have: the initiative of the individual.

We are meeting those obligations. We will continue to do so.

In the past three years, we have substantially increased aid to elementary and secondary education. This year, we are providing $1.6 billion, an increase of $100 million over last year.

That's $700 per child; over $20,000 for the classroom of 30.

Through increased funding of elementary and secondary education, we've raised the state share of financing public schools to 46 per cent — up from 39 per cent three years ago.

That three-year increase, totaling $485 million, is substantially easing the burden on the local taxpayer.

The goal, of course, is quality education. Those increased dollars must be spent in the front line of education—the classroom — and not on wasteful practices and excess bureaucracy.

Local school boards, parents, teachers — everyone who cares — must be involved in this effort. Dollars alone do not insure quality education.

We are providing $700 million to higher education.

Illinois has the third largest scholarship program in the nation and the lowest effective tuition rate at state colleges and universities.

For education — elementary, secondary and and higher — we are spending $2.3 billion, 43 per cent of the General Revenue fund dollars available. That's far more than we're spending for any other purpose.

Book sale at SIUE Tuesday

A large variety of books given to the library as gifts will be on sale. These books are on sale either because they are not needed for the library collection or because they are duplicates of books already in the library.

Proceeds from the book sale are used to purchase books or specialized materials for Lovejoy Library which could not otherwise be obtained.

The Friends of Lovejoy Library conduct book sales every other Tuesday throughout the regular quarterly class schedule.

Anyone interested in contributing books to Lovejoy Library should contact Field Representative Paul Chamless at 692-3730 or the Friends office, 692-2711.

Three charged

Three men were taken into custody by guards at Granite City Steel at 10:10 p.m. Thursday and charged by Granite City police with criminal trespass to property.

Arrested in a private auto on the Granite City Steel parking lot at 20th and Nash streets were: Roger P. Murphy, 25, of 2303 Ohio Ave.; John C. Stonesifer, 19, of 1307 Kirkpatrick Homes; and Steve D. Hale, 21, of 2606 Lincoln Ave.

One man and the same car, occupied by the other two, were observed earlier in the GCS parking area at 16th Street and Madison Avenue, the guards alleged.

REPORTS FALL

Stella Patrich, 2200 Iowa St., told police at 2:50 p.m. Thursday that she tripped on a sunken section of pavement while walking in the street at 22nd and Iowa and fell to the ground. She reported being treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for bruises to both hands and knees.

Rent subsidies offered

By VIRGINIA KNAUER
Special Assistant to the President and Director Office of Consumer Affairs Department of Health, Education and Welfare

If you are a senior citizen on a fixed income, have a physical handicap or disability, or are in the low-income bracket, you may qualify for federal government help in paying your rent.

Under a new program—known officially as Section 8 Housing Assistance Payments Program—the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is making available rent subsidies to consumers who are having difficulty in paying for their housing.

The program is designed to help people whose income is well below the average for a "housing market area" as set by HUD. Under the program, eligible consumers who are certified by the public housing authority (PHA) in their city or town can sign a lease with a participating landlord and pay from 15 to 25 per cent of the family income for rent. HUD will pay the rest.

Here is how the program works:

To be certified as eligible, consumers must first go to the PHA and provide information about their income, size of family and monthly expenses. If they qualify, they will be given a Certificate of Family Participation.

The income levels that qualify consumers for the rent subsidy are computed for each "standard metropolitan statistical area" in the country — like, for example, Sarasota, Fla. HUD takes the median income for this area (where half of the population is above and half below this figure) and requires that eligible consumers earn no more than 80 per cent of the median.

Taking the example again of Sarasota, if the median income is $10,000, consumers could qualify for assistance if they earn less than $8,000. However, income by itself is not the only determinant. HUD also looks at the size of the family in figuring eligibility.

In determining whether the person or family being subsidized pays 15 or 25 per cent of the rent, HUD looks at how their income compares to the average income for the area. If the income is no greater than 80 per cent of the average, the person or family is considered "low income" and pays 25 per cent. Where the income is no greater than 50 per cent of the average, HUD classifies these consumers as "very low income" and allows them to pay 15 per cent.

Landlords can participate in the program if their units are inspected by the PHA and are found to be "decent, safe, and sanitary" housing according to HUD specifications. HUD also requires that the rents charged by landlords are reasonable according to HUD's statistics for the area.

For more information about the new rent subsidy Quad-Citians may contact their nearest HUD office (which is listed in the phone book under U. S. Government).

Darla Smallie becomes Mrs. Stanton Stauffer

Miss Darla Lynn Smallie, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smallie, 3241 Aubrey Ave., and Stanton Walter Stauffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Stauffer, 2408 Roney Drive, were united in marriage Dec. 27 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

A decorated Christmas tree and red poinsettias provided the setting for the double ring ceremony, performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly.

Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw served as organist for Jon Grindstaff, Mrs. Vicki Simpson and Larry Smallie, a brother of the bride, as they sang and played guitars. Nuptial selections included "New Lord's Prayer," "Lady My Sweet Lady," "Time in a Bottle," "Follow Me," "Wedding Song" and "I Only Have Eyes For You," the latter sung by Jon Grindstaff.

For her wedding, the bride chose a long white gown accented with lace motifs on the high stand-up collar, molded bodice and long tapered sleeves.

The semi-full skirt extended into a chapel train. She wore a halo headpiece to secure her bouffant veil of bridal illusion. Her crescent bouquet was composed of variegated pink carnations and red baby's breath, tied with long red streamers.

Miss Donna Smallie, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant. She wore a full-length hot pink polyester gown fashioned with a sleeveless bodice, high neckline and matching hooded cape, edged in marabou feathers.

Bridesmaids Sandi Eberhart, Diane Lampey and Chris Stauffer, a sister of the groom, selected identically styled dresses in a burgundy shade.

They held cascade arrangements of pink baby's breath and red carnations, festooned with pink satin streamers.

The flower girl, Carissa Stauffer, a niece of the groom, was dressed in a long pink frock similar in style to the maid of honor's dress. She carried a white basket of red carnations and pink baby's breath.

Todd Smallie, a nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Paul Ridder Jr., of Quincy, Ill., a brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Cordel Burnett, Don Grawe, Bud Eberhart, Michael Marshall and Dana Lugering completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at the Engineer's Hall in Mitchell following the service. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smallie wore a formal-length blue polyester gown. The groom's mother appeared in a long cocoa beige polyester dress. Both wore red and pink carnation corsages with red baby's breath.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer are now residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Florida.

A 1972 graduate of the Catholic Boys High School in Quincy, Ill., the groom will graduate from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in June. He presently is manager of I-HOP. The bride was graduated in 1973 from South High School.

MR. AND MRS. STANTON W. STAUFFER, who were married at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Darla Lynn Smallie, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smallie, 3241 Aubrey Ave.

Jr. Bay View hears review

The book, "Lady" written by Thomas Tryon was reviewed by Mrs. Sharon Loftus at a meeting of the Junior Bay View Reading Club Thursday evening.

In her presentation, Mrs. Loftus said the story is set in a small New England town in the 1930's and 1940's. The novel unfolds the story of a wealthy and beautiful widow whose enigmatic past weaves a web of suspense around her and those who love her.

Mrs. Marge O'Neil entertained the group and as president conducted the business session. Members responded to roll call with items on music or art.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess to Clova Taylor, Velma Neumann, Mildred Jungels, Ann Little, Peggy Koerper and Marguerite Lexow.

The February meeting will be with Mrs. Taylor, 100 Briarhaven Drive, with Mrs. Shirley Rapoff giving the book review.

SUFFERS BROKEN RIBS

Mrs. Melba Taylor, 29, of 71 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was injured in an auto accident and was treated at a hospital in East St. Louis before being transferred to St. Elizabeth Hospital last week. She suffered two fractured ribs and abrasions to her face. X-rays were taken and she was admitted.

Sing-A-Long at Sacred Heart

Joey James, who plays the accordian, piano and cordavox, will headline a "Come Sing Along With Us" program at 7 p.m. Sunday at Sacred Heart School gymnasium.

James, a Granite Cityan, leads the Joey James Band, a five-piece music group which performs at many area functions.

The band has played at the Governor's Ball at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield and will perform at the Granite City Bicentennial Commission's Mayor's Ball, scheduled at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 1 at Southern Illinois University.

The public is invited to attend the program at Sacred Heart gymnasium. The sing-a-long will feature music appealing to persons of all age levels, according to Mrs. Margaret Kwiatkowski, project chairman.

A $1 admission fee will be asked at the door for the three-hour presentation, the chairman said. Refreshments will be available at extra charge, including beer, soft drinks, popcorn and sandwiches.

Proceeds from the sing-along will help finance various parish projects, Mrs. Kwiatkowski said.

Masquers schedule auditions

Masquers, Inc. has announced auditions for its spring production of the Broadway musical, "1776," will be held Saturday at 2 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 31, and Feb. 1 at 2 p.m.

All sessions will be held on the second floor of the Collinsville Building and Loan Association building, adjacent to Camelot Bowl on old route 40 in Collinsville.

The production is scheduled in mid-June. Although auditions are being held at the present time, rehearsals will not begin until late March or early April.

The show, which recalls the events surrounding the signing of the Declaration of Independence, calls for a cast of 25 men and two women. All roles are actual historic figures. Interested persons are invited to attend any of the scheduled sessions.

If persons interested in auditioning have access to the music of "1776," they should prepare to sing a piece from the show. If not, they should prepare a selection from any Broadway musical. Those auditioning also will be asked to read from the script of the show.

The Masquers, Inc. is a non-profit community theater organization based in Collinsville. The group invites participation from residents of the Metro-East and St. Louis areas. Area music and speech-theater teachers, who rarely have the chance to perform themselves, might be especially interested in auditioning.

"1776" will be the final production of Masquers' 1975-76 season, a season centered around a theme of Americana. The show will be performed in both Collinsville and Granite City and has been declared an official event in both cities' celebrations of the Bicentennial year.

Rogera Mefford of Granite City is the director and musical director of the show. Jay Frey of Collinsville is the assistant director. Jim Swanick of Collinsville is the assistant musical director. Persons interested in further information regarding auditions may phone 451-5785 (Granite City) or 344-1823 (Collinsville).

Amended lunch policy for Quad-City schools

Quad-City area schools, in accordance with the provisions of Public Law 94-105, has announced an amended policy to include and-or increase the eligibility for reduced price meals. Local school officials have adopted a family size-income criteria for determining eligibility under the free and reduced price lunch program and-or breakfast program.

The amended policy will apply to Granite City School District 9, Venice School District 3, Madison School District 12, parochial schools St. Elizabeth, Sacred Heart and St. Margaret Mary, all of Granite City, and St. Mary's in Madison. The new policy also has been adopted by Assumption High School, Canteen Township in St. Clair County.

The new criteria establishes income criteria based on family size, for providing free meals and milk for the 1976 fiscal year, and reduced price meals for the same period, as follows:

Family of one, free meals and milk, $3,230, and reduced price meals, $5,040; family of two, $4,240 and $6,620; three, $5,250 and $8,200; four, $6,260 and $9,770; five, $7,190 and $11,210; six, $8,110 and $12,650; six, $8,110 and $12,650.

Seven, $8,950 and $13,970; eight, $9,790 and $15,280; nine, $10,550 and $16,460; ten, $11,310 and $17,460; 11, $12,060 and $18,820; 12, $12,810 and $20,000, and an additional $750 income for free meals and milk and $1,180 for reduced price meals for each additional member of the family.

Children from families whose income is at or below the level shown are eligible for either free meals and free milk, or reduced price meals. Families not meeting the income criteria, but with other unusual expenses due to high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses may also be eligible.

In addition, children whose parents or guardians have become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced price meals or free milk, provided that the loss of income causes the family income, during the period of unemployment, to be within the eligibility criteria.

Application forms are available at the principal's office in each school. If you feel that you may be eligible, you are urged to contact the school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children also are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them, and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for these children, they should contact the school.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

SHAG RUG STOLEN

Thieves forced a door of a home at 2101 Dawn Ave. belonging to John Sobol Realty, taking a 12 by 19 foot green shag rug valued at $600. In addition, the thieves turned on the water in the bathtub causing it to fill and overflow, doing considerable damage to the floor. The incident was reported to the Madison County Sheriff's department last week.

Ill. Power seeks solutions to energy problems

The Illinois Power company, along with other power companies, have been taking positive steps to ease the energy crisis, according to John Blasingame, assistant to the service area manager of the Granite City office of Illinois Power Co.

Blasingame spoke to the Thursday morning meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis club. He was introduced by Arno Sponeman, program chairman.

According to Blasingame, it is hoped that the United States will be self sufficient in energy by 1985, thus ending chances for a future energy crisis.

Illinois Power has spent $1.3 million on research trying to find new ways to conserve energy in 1974, and $1.2 million in 1975.

According to the speaker, they are looking toward solar help for relief of the energy problem.

The current four main resources of energy today are oil, natural gas, coal and uranium; with uranium making up 30 per cent of the power resource and coal 60 per cent.

"If we are going to try and be self sufficient we will have to move toward developing our coal and uranium supplies," Blasingame said.

"Illinois Power plans to open a nuclear plant in Clinton, Ill., with the first unit to be opened in 1981 and the second unit hopefully in 1984," Blasingame said.

Illinois Power has not been able to supply new industry with the power they need and has a waiting list of new customers dating back to 1971.

Norman Kinder, club president, announced that Ned Freeman will present Richard Braggs of the Illinois Heart Association as next week's guest speaker.

Vandals ignite leaves at park

Vandals apparently were responsible for setting fire to a pile of leaves near the Wilson Park softball diamond in the 2900 block of State Street at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, requiring Granite City firemen to extinguish the blaze and remain at the scene about 15 minutes.

Grass and weed fires also were extinguished on park district property at 27th Street and Edison Avenue, and on property at 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Both weed fires occurred at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Trust bank growth, assets break all records in '75

E. A. Karandjeff, president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, has announced that the bank broke all records in growth of deposits and assets for the year ending 1975. Announcement was made at the annual stockholders meeting.

In his message to the stockholders, Karandjeff said, "The economic uncertainties of the past year obviously made our customers more aware of the many services our bank has to offer.

"Our savings deposits rose sharply and our savings customers received over $1,555,000 from savings interest during the year. In addition, we saw substantial increases in most of our other services.

"In order to efficiently handle this increased business a new computor system was installed. With the new equipment it became possible for customers to receive periodic customer accounts summaries which show current balances for checking, savings and installment loans.

"We were also able to make automatic deposits of Social Security checks. Social Security recipients were thereby assured of prompt deposits of their check to their savings or checking account."

Karandjeff added, "In the last quarter of the year, it became possible for the bank to pay its stockholders a double dividend. This was paid to all stockholders on record Dec. 10, 1975.

"This combined with the extension of many of our services justifies the confidence and support our stockholders have given us."

Directors of the bank re-elected are Dale Arnette, Homer Huber, Ernest A. Karandjeff, Henry D. Karandjeff, Kiril Kirchoff, Carl E. Mathias, Thomas R. Remington and Milford D. Walston.

Officers re-elected are Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman of the board and president; Ernest A. Karandjeff, chairman of the board and president; Allen Jessee, executive vice-president; Barry Loman, vice-president; John J. Polson, vice-president; John L. McDonald Jr., vice-president and cashier.

Anthony J. Zedolek, vice-president; Robert J. Hildebrand, vice-president and trust officer; Thomas J. Killoren, assistant vice-president; Robert Dietrich, assistant vice-president; William C. Evans, assistant cashier; Wesley D. Parrish, assistant cashier; Clara Parker, assistant cashier; Jacklyn Willaredt, assistant cashier; Ernest A. Karandjeff Jr., assistant cashier, and Paul W. Niles, auditor.

"The past year was significant in several ways," Karandjeff said. "Not only did we reach a milestone in growth of deposits and total assets, which now exceed $52,000,000, but we also celebrated the bank's 65th anniversary.

"Granite City Trust was founded in 1910 and, at that time, had assets of $228,014. As a community bank, we can attribute this fine growth to our many customers and friends whose loyalty have brought us to where we are today.

"As we look forward to the celebration of our nation's 200th anniversary, we reaffirm our belief in democracy and the opportunities that our country has to offer.

"We, at the bank, pledge ourselves to continue working toward meeting the financial needs of the community and providing our customers with the utmost in banking service."

Venice finishes — where else? — first in Sparta cage classic

RED DEVIL DEFENSE. James Turner (30) of Venice High School manages to bother a Waterloo basketball player who has possession of the ball despite the enemy athlete's height advantage. The picture was taken during the title game on the Sparta hardwood Saturday night. (Press-Record Photo)

For Venice High School, the 12th annual Sparta mid-winter basketball tournament was like taking candy from a baby. The Red Devils rolled to their second straight championship at Sparta with a 95-57 win Thursday over Marissa and then a 76-47 victory Saturday night over the Waterloo Bulldogs in the title contest.

Waterloo threatened to provide Venice with its toughest competition in the tournament, staying within reach of the Red Devils throughout the first half, but Venice led 12-9 and 28-18 at the two quarters.

Following the halftime break, Coach Richard Essington's Red Devils stepped up the pace with fast-breaking to run the Bulldogs off the court.

Venice scored 27 points while allowing Waterloo only two field goals and a free throw for a 55-23 lead going into the final period.

Waterloo took advantage of the junior varsity Venice squad's inexperience in the last quarter to score 24 points to the Red Devils' 21.

Venice controlled the contest by pulling 37 rebounds off the boards to Waterloo's 22. The Bulldogs' 21 turnovers further aided the Red Devil cause.

Jaffee Woolfork recovered nine rebounds and James Crowder seven.

Red Devil Reggie Gardner, who was named by the board of participating coaches to the all-tournament first team, scored only eight points in the title contest, but his ability to penetrate Waterloo's defense with his dribbling and weaving skills before passing to Woolfork at the sidelines — proved decisive.

Woolfork led Venice scoring with 22 points.

Overall, the Red Devils shot 54 per cent from the floor, 33 of 61, and Waterloo 40 per cent, 20 of 49.

Venice held a 10-7 edge at the free throw line despite committing the most fouls, 18-15.

Other than Woolfork's 22 points and Gardner's eight, scoring for Venice were Turner and Ron Salmond each with 16, Crowder with eight, Arnold four and Ricky Salmond, two.

The Red Devils, who drew a first-round bye as the tournament's top-seeded team, advanced to the championship contest with a 95-57 semifinal win Thursday night over Marissa.

Venice led the Meteors 23-8, 41-22 and 76-34 at the quarters, hitting 39 field goals and 17 free throws. Marissa connected with 19 shots from the floor and 19 charity tosses.

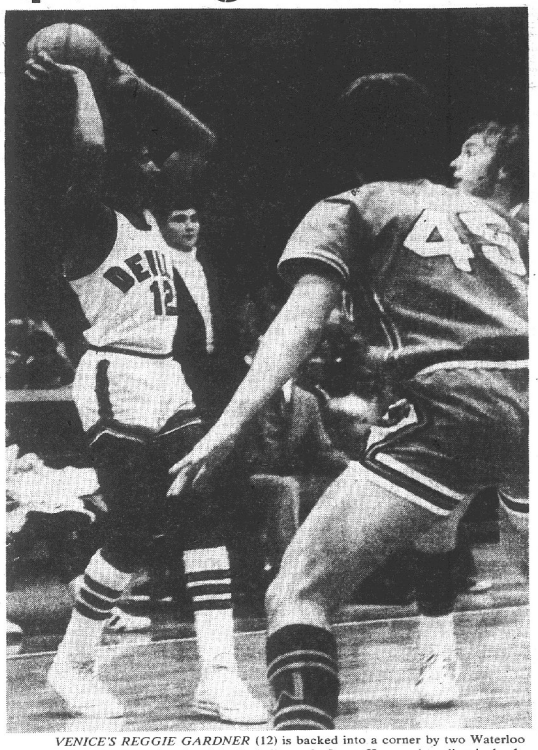

Ron Salmond recovered 13 rebounds as Venice controlled the boards with 55 carom recoveries.

Providing points for Venice were Gardner with 24, Woolfork 22, Ron Salmond 14, Arnold 13, Turner 10, Crowder five, Ricky Salmond and Venice Govan three each and Tim Walker, one.

Marissa, which lost 50-48 to Sparta in the third-place tournament game, had advanced to meet Venice with a 68-62 victory over Freeburg.

Waterloo defeated Campbell Hill (Trico) 41-47 in the first round and upended Sparta 60-55 in a semifinal contest to meet Venice in the championship game.

Okawville, which lost 61-60 in overtime to Sparta on the opening night, defeated Freeburg 60-51 and then topped Trico for consolation honors.

VENICE'S REGGIE GARDNER (12) is backed into a corner by two Waterloo players while the Waterloo head basketball coach, Larry Henson (standing in background) closely watches the action. The two teams met for the championship of the Sparta tournament. (Press-Record Photo)

Mat Warriors beat Maroons and Kahoks

Granite City High School South wrestlers met strong challenges from Belleville West matmen Friday night to break a deadlocked meet three times. After the last deadlock at 18-18, Warrior Heavyweight Mark Naglich won by default for a 24-18 South High victory at the Granite City Memorial gymnasium.

The GCHS South matmen then improved the Warriors' 1975-76 season record to 14 wins against two losses Saturday with a 38-19 victory over the Collinsville Kahoks at Collinsville.

Coach William Schmitt's matmen on Friday took an early lead with wins by Brian Basore (98 pounds) on a forfeit and Barry Forshee (105) on a 10-9 decision.

The visiting Maroons tied the meet on three straight point wins, defeating Sam Perkins (112) 6-4, Randy Basore (119) 10-6 and Jay Fedora (126) 4-0.

South opened up a six-point team lead over West on victories by Glen Moore (132) 5-4 and Darrell Hasty (138) 8-5, but the opponents edged Ed Fetter (145) 5-3 and Steve Avedisian (155) 12-11 to again even the meet.

A West athlete defeated Jerry Patterson (167) 3-2 in the next weight class as Belleville moved ahead of South, but a victory by Warrior Kevin Wilson (185) 4-0 put the two schools in a third tie.

Naglich then squared off against his foe in the decisions final bout. The two wrestling powerhouses had tied their meet a year ago.

Naglich picked up the winning points for South when his opponent injured his knee and was unable to continue, giving the Warrior heavyweight a win by default.

Only four Warriors bowed in the Collinsville meet — Wally DeShon (98 pounds) on a 12-0 decision, Jay Fedora (126) on a pin in 5:01, Glen Moore (132) 7-1 and Ed Fetter (145) 6-5.

Sam Perkins (112) earned team points by wrestling his Kahok foe to a scoreless draw.

Posting wins were Warriors Barry Forshee (105) 1:40, Al Schuler (119) :37, Darrell Hasty (138) 10-4, Steve Avedisian (155) 11-7, Jerry Patterson (167) 4:52, Mark Siebert (185) by a forfeit and Heavyweight Mark Naglich 3:19.

GCHS South (Soph) 48, Belleville West 15 (Warrior winners Ron Cline (98) by forfeit, Scott Clement (105) 5:43, Barry Briggs (119) by forfeit, Doug Irvin (126) by forfeit, Mike Forshee (155) 5:45, Tony Broyles (167) 3:06, Mark Lemp (185) by forfeit and Heavyweight Dennis Scarsdale by forfeit)

Free throws doom Cougars

Ball games are still being decided at the free throw line. Coach Jim Dudley and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball charges found this out Saturday night as the Cougars lost to Indiana State University-Evansville 79-74 on the cold, cruel road.

The Cougars, despite outshooting Indiana State 35 to 30 from the floor, lost when the Hoosiers made good on 19 of 30 charity tosses, including two converted technical fouls called on the annoyed and chagrined Dudley.

Over that same stretch, SIUE was awarded seven chances and made only four. One technical foul was called on SIUE assistant coach, Dan Thornton, too.

The loss dropped the Cougars to 4-9 and may make them particularly dangerous for the Quincy College Hawks, with whom they'll do battle tonight at the St. Louis Arena starting at 6:30. St. Louis U. will play South Carolina in tonight's second game at 8:30. SIUE students will be admitted free.

10 score for South but St. Teresa wins

Ten different GCHS South cagers put points on the scoreboard Saturday at Decatur, but the Warriors' failure to contain the inside shooting of St. Teresa's Bill Leonard let the host player score 35 points and led to a 79-58 loss for South High.

South stayed within reach of the hosts throughout the first quarter and trailed by four, 19-15, at the conclusion of the period before St. Teresa opened up a 12-point halftime margin, 39-27.

Leonard pumped in 15 of his team's third-quarter points, helping the hosts attain a 64-37 lead over the Warriors entering the final period.

South outpointed the hosts 21-15 but St. Teresa's big lead had put the game out of reach.

The Decatur school connected 30 times from the floor to South's 26, and hit 19 four shots to South's six.

The Warriors committed the most fouls, 19-14, and turnovers 17-14, but played the boards well, recovering 32 rebounds. St. Teresa, however, retrieved the ball 37 times.

Jim Nolan and Terry Angle were the only Warriors to score in double figures, each with 13 points.

John Slay had nine points, Rick Fancher and Tim Anderson six each, Mike McRaven four, David Rhodes, Keith Champion and Roland Hurth two each and John Lakin, one point.

South now has a 3-11 record.

MHS just as good the 2nd time around

For the second time this season, the Madison High School Trojans have dealt Pinckneyville a defeat, 73-60 Friday evening at Pinckneyville.

Madison last month downed the host cagers 72-60 in first-round action of the Edwardsville holiday tournament.

It was the third straight victory for Coach Larry Graham's Trojans following a loss to Edwardsville in the championship game of the Tigers' annual tourney. Madison now has an 11-2 record.

Playing Pinckneyville to a 14-14 first quarter tie, Madison surged ahead 34-24 at the half on eight points tallied by Ron Williams, four by Ron Jones and two each by Joe Gulash, Danny Bankhead, Randall Jones and Rodney Davis in the second period.

The Trojans commanded a 53-'39 lead going into the final period, in which Pinckneyville had a 21-20 edge.

Neither side scored points on charity tosses in first half action, though two foul shots were attempted.

But in the last half, the hosts hit on 16 of 25 free throws and Madison on nine of 14.

From the field, Madison held a 10-basket margin, connecting on 32 of 70 shots to the hosts' 22 of 67.

Madison passes reached three players constantly near the basket — Randall Jones, Ron Jones and Ron Williams. They combined for 50 of Madison's points and pulled down 33 of the Trojans' rebounds.

Pinckneyville recovered 26 rebounds and committed the fewest fouls, 15-17.

Nine players earned points for the Trojans. Randall Jones led with 19, Williams had 16 and Ron Jones 15.

Senior Curtis Bradley, seeing action for the first time during the 1975-76 season after a prior ineligibility ruling, put six points through the net, as did Joe Gulash.

Danny Bankhead and Rodney Davis each scored four, Keith King two and Anthony Canada, one point.

3rd last year, North hopes to go farther in Belleville East meet

Coach William "Bill" Ohlendorf's Steeler cagers will attempt to capture for Granite City High School North its first championship of the annual Belleville East basketball tournament this week.

North hopes to start with a victory at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow over Cahokia in the second game of the meet.

In the Steeler's initial year of participation, 1973-74, as a new high school following the division of Granite City High School into two institutions, North High captured consolation honors at Belleville East.

Last year, North took the tournament's third-place contest.

Murphysboro won the championship in 1974 and Belleville West in 1975.

West and Triad open the week-long competition at 7 p.m. tomorrow, followed by the North High-Cahokia contest.

On Wednesday, first-round action resumes with Belleville Althoff playing Murphysboro at 7 p.m. and the host East Lancers playing O'Fallon at 8:30 p.m.

Two games on Thursday pit the losers of tomorrow's contests against each other in a consolation game at 7 p.m., and then the Tuesday victors at 8:30 p.m.

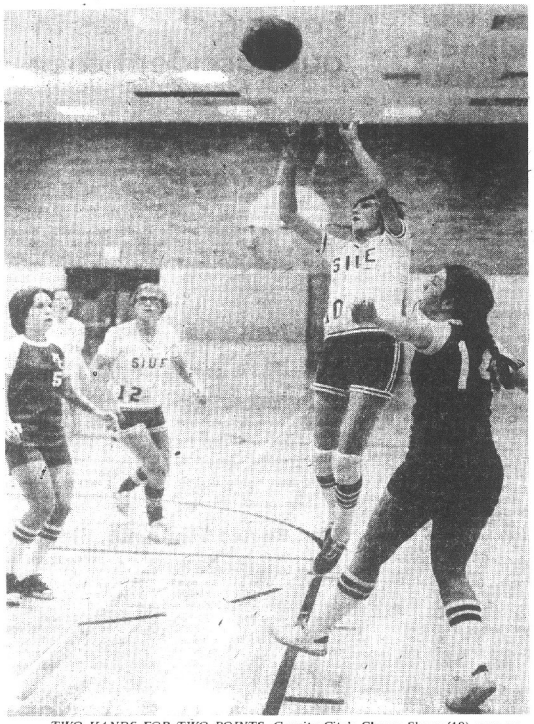

The consolation bracket contest at 7 p.m. Friday will be between losers of Wednesday's games. The 8:30 p.m. Friday championship semifinal contest will pair the winners of Wednesday's contests.

Four games are on tap Saturday, beginning with a third-place consolation bracket game at 1 p.m. and a contest for the consolation honors at 2:30 p.m.

The third-place tournament contest will be played at 7 p.m. Saturday, and the championship game at 8:30 p.m. Saturday to conclude the tournament.

West heads the list of four top-seeded schools, followed by second-seeded East and the GCHS North and Althoff.

The Steelers' 4-6 record going into weekend competition included a 68-60 loss to East and a 76-58 victory over Triad.

TWO HANDS FOR TWO POINTS. Granite City's Cherry Sharp (10) goes up for a jump shot as Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Women's basketball players defeat Maryville College 71-17 on Friday. Her teammate is Kathy Going (12). Miss Sharp is a 5-7 junior and Miss Going is a 5-7 freshman. Now 4-2 for the season, the SIUE team is coached by Ina Anderson.

Trojans top seeded in basketball tournament at Dupo High School

Madison High School's Trojan cagers are the top-seeded team in the 29th annual Dupo eight-school basketball tournament, opening tomorrow and concluding with the championship game at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Wood River is seeded second behind the Trojans, and defending tournament champion Bethalto is third.

Venice, which captured its fourth consecutive Dupo championship in 1974, withdrew from the Dupo meet last year in favor of the Sparta mid-winter classic.

Madison has yet to meet any of the participating schools in regular season competition during 1975-76 — Belleville's St. Henry Prep, Bethalto, Orchard Farms, Mo., Wood River, East St. Louis Assumption, host Dupo and Columbia.

MHS will open tomorrow's competition at 6:30 p.m. against St. Henry.

A second contest Tuesday at 8 p.m. pairs Bethalto and Orchard Farms.

Wood River plays Assumption at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and Dupo meets Columbia at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A victory tomorrow would advance the Trojans to semifinal action Thursday at 8 p.m. against either Bethalto or Orchard Farms. Another semifinal contest is slated for 8 p.m. Friday between Wednesday's winners.

Madison would advance into the tournament championship game with a victory Thursday. A loss Thursday would place Madison in Saturday's third-place tournament contest at 6:30 p.m.

Consolation bracket contests are scheduled to be played at 6:30 p.m. on both Thursday and Friday, and a contest for consolation honors will be played at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

South to open Salem cage tourney against Mascoutah Wednesday

Granite City High School South, with third-year mentor Bryan Wilkinson at the helm will seek the role of "giant killer" in the annual Salem basketball tournament.

The Granite Cityans will play the tournament's opening contest against undefeated Mascoutah Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The South High Warriors had a 3-10 record prior to weekend competition and Mascoutah was 13-0, giving an indication of the size of the problem faced by South.

Warrior fans hope South High can accomplish, against the Indians, the kind of feat achieved in the Edwardsville holiday tournament last month; the Warriors beat top-seeded and undefeated Peoria Woodruff in the quarterfinals and went on to place fourth at Edwardsville.

Defending Salem Tournament champion Effingham is not entered in this year's meet.

A second contest Wednesday pits Centralia against the hosts at 8:30 p.m.

First-round competition resumes Thursday with Mount Vernon and Robinson at 7 p.m., followed by Carlyle and Newton at 8:30 p.m.

A win over Mascoutah Wednesday would advance the Warriors against either Centralia or Salem in a semifinal contest Friday at 7 p.m.

Another semifinal game is to be played Friday at 8:30 p.m., with the two semifinal victors meeting Saturday at 9 p.m. for the tournament championship.

Consolation contests between first-round losers will be played Saturday at 12:30 p.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Electronic system now enhances local telephone service

The sparkling new electronic telephone center installed within the building at 2107 Edison Ave. by Illinois Bell Telephone Company and placed in service early Saturday provides ultra-modern and highly efficient communications for much of the Quad-City area.

At the time the structure was built in 1950, the latest available equipment consisted of electrically-powered mechanical relays. Such relays will remain in use at the Pontoon Beach telephone building, erected in the late 1960s, but the system on Pontoon Road is much more advanced than the one in use on Edison for a generation.

This community's telephone facilities now have entered the computer era, and the benefits include international direct distance dialing, call forwarding, three-way calling, speed calling and a procedure under which a tone signal indicates incoming calls on a line that is in use.

Granite City Steel progress bodes well for its future

The entire system of 50 National Steel Corporation plants is now the operating responsibility of new President Howard M. Love, but he indicated to newsmen Thursday in Pittsburgh that he will remain in close contact with each of the divisions, including Granite City Steel.

He plans an intensive travel schedule and, in addition, his selection of St. Louis as his center of operations assures that he will be able to easily keep up-to-date on the big steelmaking and rolling facilities here.

Love displayed pride in the progress made in Granite City, including expansion of pig iron production from the 3,600-ton daily level to an estimated 4,200-4,500 range at present and a scheduled 5,000 daily level. Production records were set on the 80-inch hot mill here during the period prior to the 1975 sales downturn.

As a consequence of such gains, even more reliance is to be placed on Granite City Steel, with a variety of capital expenditures and procedural improvements likely to be announced in coming months and years.

The bright outlook that is in view underscores the value to all parties of the 1971 merger of Granite City Steel and National Steel. The past and present of the local plant are providing a solid base on which to build an outstanding future.

Redefinition of real estate tax base being suggested

Guest comment by William E. Stowe, manager, Tax Department, Illinois State Chamber of Commerce — Existing tax assessment guidelines deal a body blow to what should be the heart of our state's real estate tax laws: clear, unambiguous and precise standards which provide assessors guidelines but allow them discretion.

Until the advent of the new State Constitution in 1970, it made little difference from a revenue standpoint whether property was classified as realty or personalty.

But when statutes under the new Constitution decreed that certain types of property be taxed as realty, confusion grew: often, the individual assessor was left to develop his own guidelines.

Since the personal property tax is scheduled to be repealed and replaced with other types of taxes by 1979, it is likely that assessors will continue to reclassify some personal property as real estate even though such property has been traditionally treated as personalty.

This enables the taxing jurisdiction to preserve a larger portion of the overall property tax base. However, it also defeats the intent of the Constitution and produces an unjust situation in Illinois.

More specific guidelines must be provided to assessors.

It is impossible to conceive a perfect and all-encompassing definition on which an assessor can make clear-cut decisions at all times. But for the sake of uniformity throughout the state, assessors must be provided with standards, supported by statute, to carry out their responsibilities.

Additionally, a reasonable set of rules must be established, on which an assessor can rely for unusual cases in order to determine if a piece of property should be properly classified as realty.

Inaction by the state on this matter will lead to some expensive years for Illinois property owners. A redefinition of the real estate tax base at the same time the personal property tax is eliminated is a top priortiy.

GC trucker killed in Missouri

Thomas Earl Hildebrand, 49, of 2624 Highway 67 (3), was injured fatally at 8:20 p.m. Sunday when the tractor-trailer truck he was driving left the roadway and overturned on Missouri Highway 38, about 10 miles south of Buffalo in Dallas County, Mo.

The Missouri Highway Patrol in Springfield said Mr. Hildebrand was traveling west on the two-lane state highway at the time the 1973 GMC rig, loaded with three-quarter-inch pipe, left the road and turned over. The pavement appeared to be in normal condition, the officer said.

Faces 6 charges in auto accident case

Jessie Keller, 19, of Rural Route Two, Box 1028, is being held by Venice police on charges of disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, assaulting a police officer and making a false police report.

Keller also faces charges of careless driving and failure to give aid or information filed by Madison police.

The charges were filed after Keller allegedly struck an auto Sunday at 4:40 p.m. driven by Millie M. Knor of Edwardsville at 12th Street and Madison Avenue, allegedly fled the scene and then went to the American Legion in Venice.

Keller telephoned the Venice police and reportedly told them his car had been struck in the Legion parking lot by a lady driving a brown Chevrolet, authorities said.

Keller was asked to appear at the police station.

While the Venice police were checking the accident, Madison advised them of the earlier hit and run.

Keller reportedly became abusive in his language at the Venice station and when asked by a Venice police officer to watch his language, Keller allegedly struck the officer.

MAN CHASES GIRL, 8

Two men in a red auto attempted to lure an 8-year-old girl into the car at 6:10 p.m. Thursday in the 3300 block of Principessa Drive. After the girl refused an offer of a ride, one man left the vehicle and chased the youngster who ran to a neighbor's house, the girl's mother told police.

Campbell indicted

A Madison County grand jury Thursday indicted Kevin Campbell, 19, of Lee Wright Homes, Venice, on charges of armed violence and escape.

He allegedly was involved in an Oct. 31 incident during which shots were fired into the North Venice Grill, 1100 Calhoun St., Venice, and one shot was fired at a police car responding to the grill disturbance.

The grand jury also alleged Campbell escaped from Venice police Nov. 15, after he appeared to be ill in his jail cell. While being taken to the hospital, he reported he was feeling better and the squad car returned to the Venice Jail. While officers were letting him out of the car, he allegedly ran away.

He surrendered Nov. 20 and warrants were served on him.

Deputies promoted

Sixteen Madison County sheriff's deputies have received promotions with six having their ranks increased from sergeant to lieutenant, nine being promoted from patrolman to sergeant and John Cooper of Granite City, chief of field operations, being increased in rank from lieutenant to captain.

New lieutenants are: Richard Beasley, Ted Nizinski and Chief of Detectives Gary Burns, all of Granite City; Delbert Clemons of Godfrey; Dave Reno of Dorsey, and Jack Ladd of Marine.

The promotions were effective Thursday but have not yet been officially announced.

GC man hurt, charged in police chase

Russell E. Briddle, 49, of the 3300 block of Village Lane, was reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Louis County Hospital after his auto allegedly was involved in an accident during a police chase early Saturday in Ballwin, Mo.

Briddle has been charged with attempted arson, carrying a concealed weapon, driving while intoxicated, speeding (90 miles-per-hour in a 30 mph zone) careless driving and a stop sign violation.

Ballwin Patrolman Steve Mabrey alleged he was passing a service station at 443 Manchester Road at 12:35 a.m. Saturday, and heard glass breaking. He then noticed sparks beside the station and alleged seeing a man jump into a parked car nearby.

The car was chased about three-miles and ended when the car left the road and was demolished on Baxter Road a mile north of Clayton Road.

Briddle first declined medical treatment, but later said he was suffering from a back injury and was taken to the hospital.

Police allege a beer bottle containing a flammable liquid had been thrown against the service station, causing a minor fire which was extinguished by the Ballwin Fire Department.

GC woman is assaulted

A young Granite City woman told authorities she was kidnapped and raped by a man in a new car who offered her a ride from West Pontoon Road near the railroad tracks at about 5:30 p.m. Friday.

The woman said she and her husband were driving on Federal Aid Route 151 when their car ran out of gasoline near West Pontoon Road. She said she was walking on West Pontoon to find a telephone when a black car with a white interior stopped and the driver offered her a ride.

She accepted. The man showed a gun and forced her to commit acts against her will while they were driving, she related.

He prevented her from seeing where the car was going. Somewhere in the rural area, he stopped the car and raped her, she alleged.

The man then drove her to Rode Avenue and Pontoon Road and released her. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Suspect fire set by vandals

Vandalism is suspected as the cause of a fire which gutted much of a vacant and condemned house in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue at 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

Police, on routine patrol, noticed smoke coming from the rear of the vacant building and notified firemen. Firefighters found the fire had been started in three locations inside.

One fire was started in the living room and another in the couch. Another had been started in a rear bedroom. The third fire, in another bedroom, had burned itself out when firemen arrived.

Fire units fought the blaze for 45 minutes. There was no damage estimate, since the building was scheduled to be demolished.

Car overturns

Mike Bazzell, 22, Farmington, Mo., was injured when his auto went out of control at the curve in State Street near 15th Street and overturned at 1:25 a.m. Saturday.

It is alleged Bazzell's auto was traveling north on State Street at about 45 miles-per-hour when it spun around and landed on its right side against a utility pole.

Bazzell was pinned in the car and had to kick the windshield out in order to free himself. He suffered cuts to his hands and a head injury, but declined to be taken to a hospital.

Police charged him with speeding.

Religious heritage services to begin tonight at Madison

Citizens of the Quad-City area will have an opportunity this week to participate in a variety of worship services in Madison.

Each night, except Friday, a different church will open its doors for public participation in that particular church's heritage.

The first service will be held today at Madison's United Methodist Church, Fifth Street and Ewing Avenue, at 7 p.m. Rev. J. Michael Smith, pastor of the church, will preach and conduct the service in the Methodist tradition.

Tuesday's service at 7 p.m. will be held at the Russian Eastern Orthodox Church, located across the street from the Methodist Church, with Father Vladmir Lecko officiating in a standard Orthodox service.

Wednesday night's service will be held at 7 in the Mount Nebo Baptist Church. Rev. Jerome Jackson will preach at this service.

The African Methodist Episcopal Church, 1035 Market St., will host Thursday's 7 p.m. service. The AME denomination represents one of America's oldest Black movements, dating back to the Revolutionary War. Rev. Ellis Seals will preach that night.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church 10th Street and Alton Avenue, will invite the public to its regular Saturday mass on Jan. 24 at 6 p.m. Father Ralph Scherrer, OFM, will officiate at this service.

The special services are sponsored by the Madison Ministerial Council.

J. Michael Smith, president of the council, said, This week of services is a recognition that communities are composed of more than concrete and steel. Life is more than politics and economics. Life is more than just solving problems. Life is also soul . . . and celebration."

The public is invited to attend all services. Greeters will be at each church to instruct guests. Quad-Cityans may call 876-3555 for directions to any church.

Bicentennial is GCS Women's theme

A program entitled "Revolution Pin or Revolting Sewing Bee" was presented by the "Granite City Scene Steelers" at a meeting last week of the Granite City Steel Women's Club.

In keeping with the Bicentennial theme, the program featured cast members: Ramona Burnett as Betsy Ross; Perma Boyer, portraying Mrs. Benjamin Franklin; Mrs. Pat Maul as Mrs. Paul Revere; Mrs. Joan Crawford as Martha Washington and Gwin Taylor playing George Washington.

Program chairman Mary Stegle introduced Wanda MacDonough who was in charge of the entertainment. A special segment included a "chorus line of Uncle Sams" spotlighting Ruby Strebler, Virginia Knipping, Edith Hedick, Betty Goldasich and Billie Mae Wilson. The group danced and sang "It's Our Nation's Birthday."

Climaxing the presentation was unveiling of a large birthday cake made with three tiers of cupcakes decorated with red, white and blue candles and topped with a replica of Independence Hall.

Red, white and blue decorations were carried out in the table appointments for the "all American" meal which included apple pie.

President Geraldine Dublar presided at the business session.

Prizes offered during the social hour were awarded to Virginia Buecker, Elizabeth Niepert, Geraldine Dublar, Ruth Hancock, Helene Bischoff, Florence Riedle, Grace Lehn and Virginia Knipping.

Hostesses planning the meeting were Mrs. MacDonough, Mary Stegel, Delores Allen, Joan Crawford, Nellie Diecker and Billie Mae Wilson.

Luncheon style show makes hit

A concept new to the Quad-Cities in presenting clothing fashions was introduced Friday at Charlie's Restaurant by Marilyn's House of Fashions, 1331 Nineteenth St.

Lunch patrons were treated to a preview of the latest fashion trends in an informal and relaxed manner, which enabled busy diners to maintain their strict lunch hour schedule while viewing the ensembles.

A variety of styles from casualwear to evening gowns and daytime dresses was in the collection.

Hats and scarves accessorized the outfits in many instances and boots, making a comeback with the longer skirts, complemented several ensembles.

Serving as models were Pat Bax, Edith Mitchell, Joyce Poor, Billie Schuler and Helen Todd.

The models circled the dining area, stopping to talk informally with lunch patrons and giving the designer's name, color choice and cost of their outfits.

Although little advance publicity was given to the venture, the usual crowded dining room appeared to have more women patrons than is usual, one "regular" customer commented.

Similar luncheon show are being planned in future weeks, Mrs. Marilyn Lunsford, co-owner of the Downtown Granite City store, reported.

Change food budget to keep expenses in line, consumer expert says

An on-going series of consumer information programs being offered to Quad-City residents will continue Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Lincoln Place Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus Ave., it was announced today.

Programs dealing with a variety of subjects of concern to homemakers and consumers in general will be given during the same two-hour period on the third Tuesday of each month.

In addition to the meeting tomorrow, special programs are being arranged for Feb. 17, March 16, April 20 and May 18.

The series is being conducted by representatives of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, assisted by trained aides from this community, Dr. Rowena Lutz, director of the SIUE Consumer Information Project, reported.

Among the topics to be explored is "planning your food budget," Dr. Lutz advised.

"Feeding your family high quality, nutritious meals on a limited food budget can be a challenge," she said. "Many homemakers enjoy providing tasty, health-giving meals to their families while keeping the food bills in line with the rest of the budget."

Since food is the most flexible expense of the family budget, changes in the food budget are easy to make, the educator said:

"You do not have to be a magician, nor deprive your family in order to eat well. What you need is the determination to be a smart shopper and an awareness of the nutritional values of food," the SIUE staff member pointed out.

Dr. Lutz offered the following suggestions for keeping the food budget within the guidelines of $7 to $10 a week per person:

Plan meals ahead around the "basic four."

Organize a grocery list.

Avoid impulse buying, unless the item can be used soon and there is a definite reduction in cost, then it may be wise to stockpile.

Shop competitively, perhaps two or more stores, but only if the stores are reasonably close together to avoid increasing the gasoline bill.

Compare prices. Learn to use the unit pricing for the cost per ounce information. This makes budget shopping much easier.

Utilize the weekly advertisements and specials for each market. Use the coupons. One retail grocery manager estimated as much as 18 per cent of the grocery bill can be reduced by using the "specials."

Use more chicken, fish, eggs, liver and dried beans in your menus. All are high sources of protein at reasonable cost.

Cut down on "junk" foods for snacks. "Junk" foods are those items that give little food values for what the item costs — such as potato chips, soda pop, candies, etc. Snacks are an important part of our culture, but should have some nutritional value most of the time.

Avoid high-cost convenience foods. Again, compare costs. However, some convenience foods may cost less per serving than a recipe made from "scratch," Dr. Lutz noted.

CARD CLUB HONORS BIRTHDAY MEMBERS

The birthdays of Mrs. Grace Kopp and Mrs. Agnes Schwartzkopf were observed at a club meeting held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Vera Carey. Both honorees received gifts from the members.

Prizes in the games were awarded to Mrs. Range, Mrs. Grace Hennrich, the hostess and Mrs. Marie Perry, a guest.

Also attending were Mrs. Margaret Richardson, Mrs. Irene Feeler and Mrs. Lorena Parenta. The Feb. 19 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Feeler, 3311 Franklin Ave.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought To You
By Milton Mathews

Here's one that's hard to believe . . . But, it's true . . . Two of the greatest pro basketball players of all-time, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell FAILED to make their high school basketball teams . . . Both were cut from their squads in their high school days! . . . It seems incredible, but it's been confirmed by the National Basketball Association . . . And it proves again that truth is sometimes stranger than fiction.

+ + +

Has any basketball player ever scored all his team's points in one game? . . . This amazing feat happened once in a high school game in Alabama . . . . A player named Walter Garrett scored 97 points in one game a few seasons ago, and the final score in that game was 97-54!

+ + +

Here's one for you bowlers . . . Do you have any idea what the odds are against rolling a perfect 300 game? . . . According to the American Bowling Congress, the odds against a 300 game, even by the best of bowlers, are 367,000 to 1 . . . There have been almost 7-million games rolled in ABC tournaments over the years and only 19 perfect 300-games in all that time . . . That's where they get the odds of 367,000 to 1.

+ + +

I bet you didn't know . . . The Chevette is Chevrolet's hottest small car!

Bakalis urges action to prevent 'Fiscal chaos'

Michael J. Bakalis, a Democratic candidate for Illinois state comptroller, has outlined a two-point program for the current legislative session to prevent what he called "the potential for fiscal chaos in Illinois."

Bakalis first recommended legislation which would create an inter-governmental body to end the current confusion regarding information on the state's financial condition. The Democratic candidate's second recommendation was for a one-year spending "freeze" on all new and non-mandated state programs.

Bakalis said that "no one in Springfield or the rest of the state really knows just how much financial trouble we are in. Conflicting statements about existing cash reserves and revenue estimates have confused the public, the legislature, and the media and have set the stage for serious trouble in the current legislative session."

Bakalis warned that unless legislators have current, understandable, and accurate information on the fiscal condition of the state they will once again be making uninformed and potentially disasterous decisions on upcoming legislation.

"Great care must be taken," Bakalis urged, "to see that the legislature does not unknowingly pass bills that would spend us into fiscal disaster. It is clear that the governor has not and will not offer a planned program to de-escalate spending and thus the legislature must."

Bakalis said the proposed legislation would mandate the creation of an Intergovernmental Economic Information Commission. This would centralize state economic information and eliminate the current contradictory revenue forecasts which are released from state governmental agencies. The law would require regular meetings and information exchanges between the state comptroller, state treasurer, director of the Bureau of the Budget and members of the Revenue and Appropriations Committees of the General Assembly.

Also appointed would be three non-governmental members such as representatives of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, members of the state's financial community, and organized labor. The commission would also have an advisory committee of economists from throughout the state. Every six months, the commission would make a report to the public and to the General Assembly as to the fiscal state of the state. This report would then become the authoritative statement which could be used as a basis for sound statewide fiscal policy.

Bakalis also warned that over the past four years the state budget has increased "like an unchecked cancerous growth which threatens to kill the state's economic well-being." The governor's budget request for fiscal year 1976 was double the budget for 1971. During the first five months of the current fiscal year through Dec. 1, 1975, the state has spent over $200 million dollars more than it has taken in — reducing its balance from approximately $350 million dollars to less than $50 million dollars. All reports indicate that the state's cash balance has fallen to the lowest point in 20 years.

Bakalis said his call for a spending "freeze" was an attempt to begin the "hard but necessary process of a long range planned de-escalation of state spending over the next two years."

The spending moratorium, Bakalis said, would give lawmakers the necessary time to engage in a thorough review of our financial condition as a state and allow for the clear establishment of over-all state priorities.

"While it will be difficult to rebuff those who will want more new state programs paid for by more state money," Bakalis said, "the other options are clearly not desirable. We can go broke or we can raise taxes, and it is obvious that the people of Illinois want neither of those choices."

A one-year freeze, Bakalis said, would not harm the state and might provide a valuable lesson — that government need not be present in every aspect of our lives.

"In this time of retrenchment," Bakalis said, "this is ultimately is the lesson that all of us must learn to live with."

Film on Latin America to be shown at SIUE

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville student chapter of the Deseret Club, a student organization of the Mormon Church, will sponsor a film entitled "Ancient America Speaks," Wednesday in the Missouri Room of the University Center, according to Stanley Kimball, faculty advisor for the club.

Starting at 9:30 a.m, the film will be shown every half-hour during the day, Kimball said. Viewing is free. The public is invited to attend the showings.

The film portrays the cultures and history of Latin America from the Mormon point of view. Produced by the Mormon Church, the 30-minute film shows a possible connection between Pre-Columbian civilizations and the Book of Mormon, the New World Bible of the Mormon Church.

Following each showing of the film, there will be a short question and answer period with audience participation, Kimball said.

Additional information concerning the film showings can be obtained by contacting Kimball in the department of historical studies or Annette Mulvany Graebe in the University Information Center.
